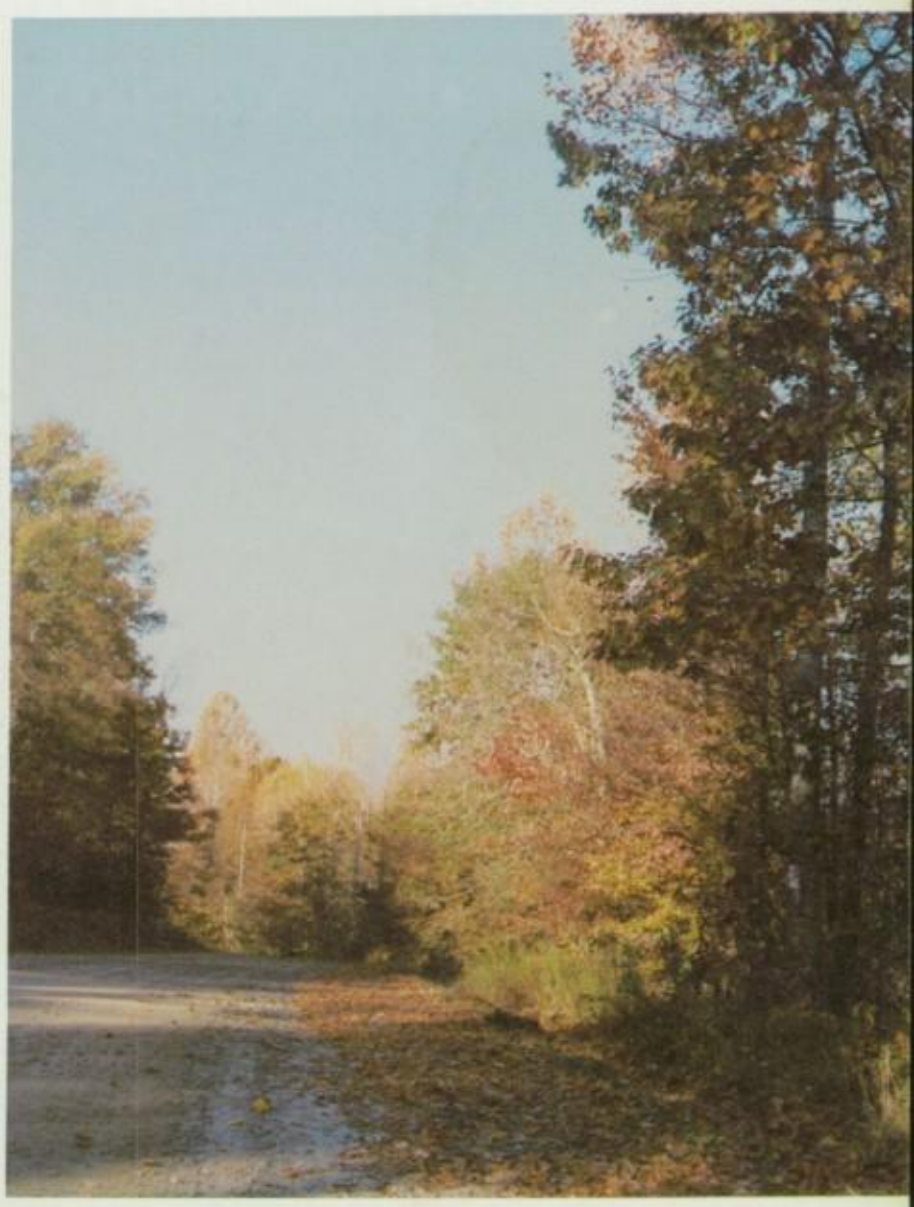
I hope the day will be a lighter highway,

For friends are found on ev'ry road;

Can you ever think of any better way

For the lost and weary travellers to go?



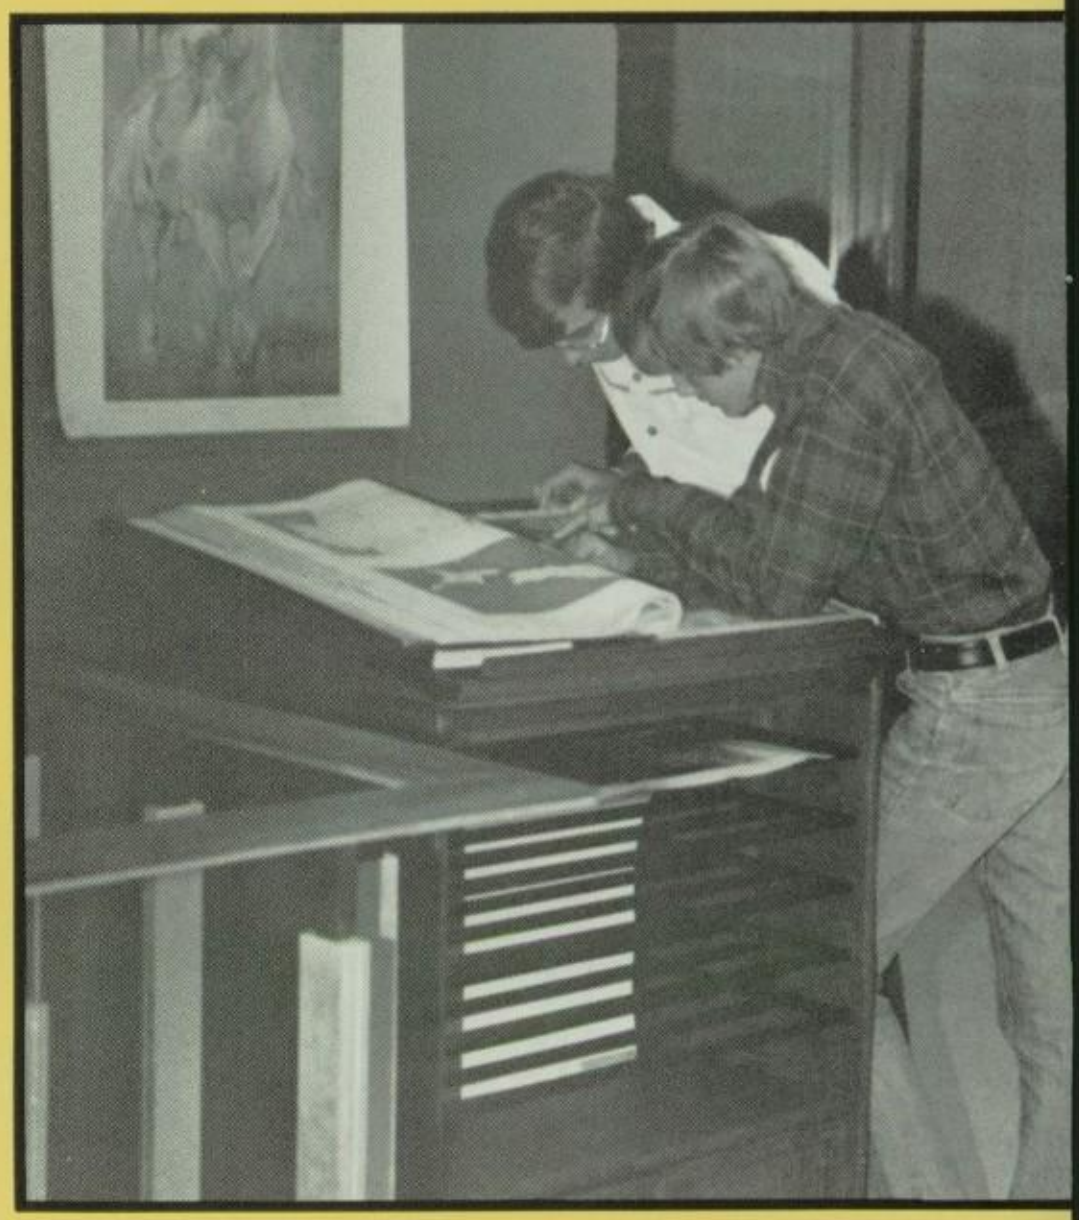
"OH, YOU THINK SO?" Tammy Flynt and Kenny Stanley take a locker break.
GOT TO GET AWAY. Melody Griffin decides she'd do better at home today as she awaits her ride home.
DO THAT ONE. Sylvia Lindsay and Tony Miller find that two heads are better than one.
TAKE ME HOME, COUNTRY ROAD. Nature becomes more beautiful when shared with friends.

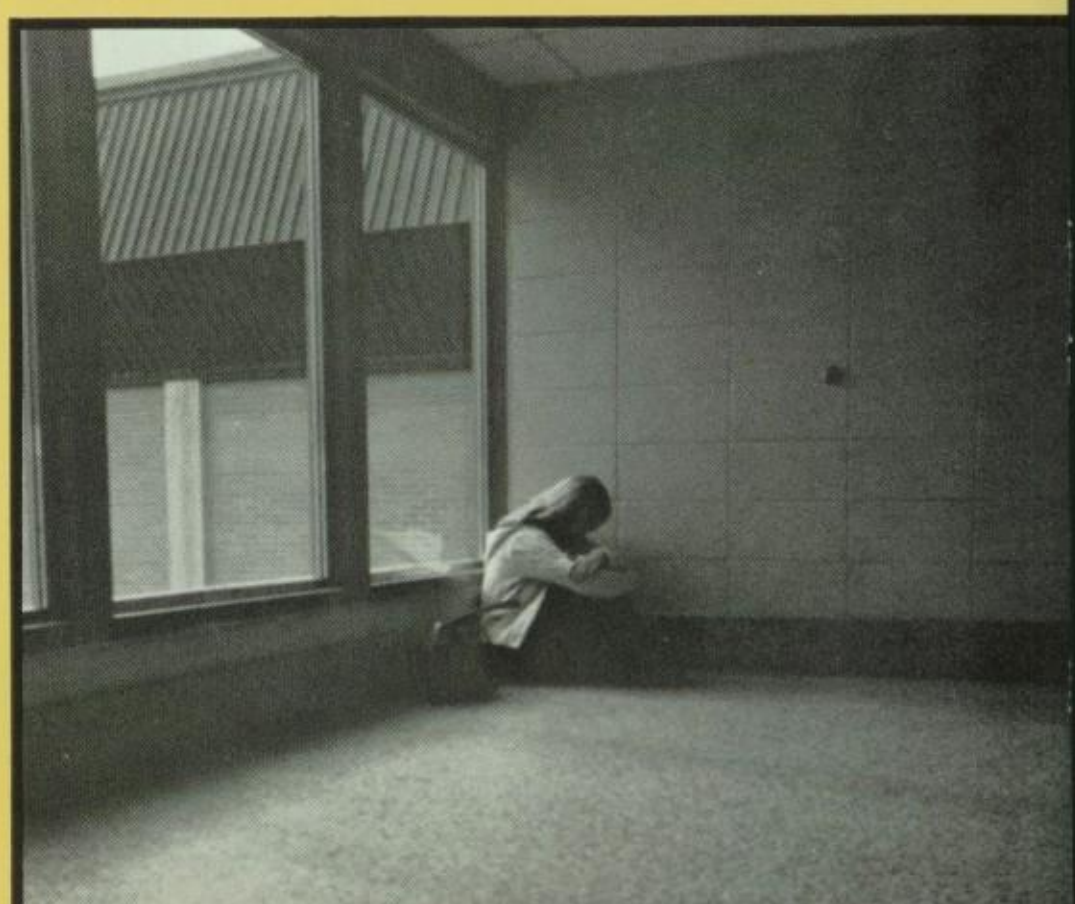
Making friends for the world to see

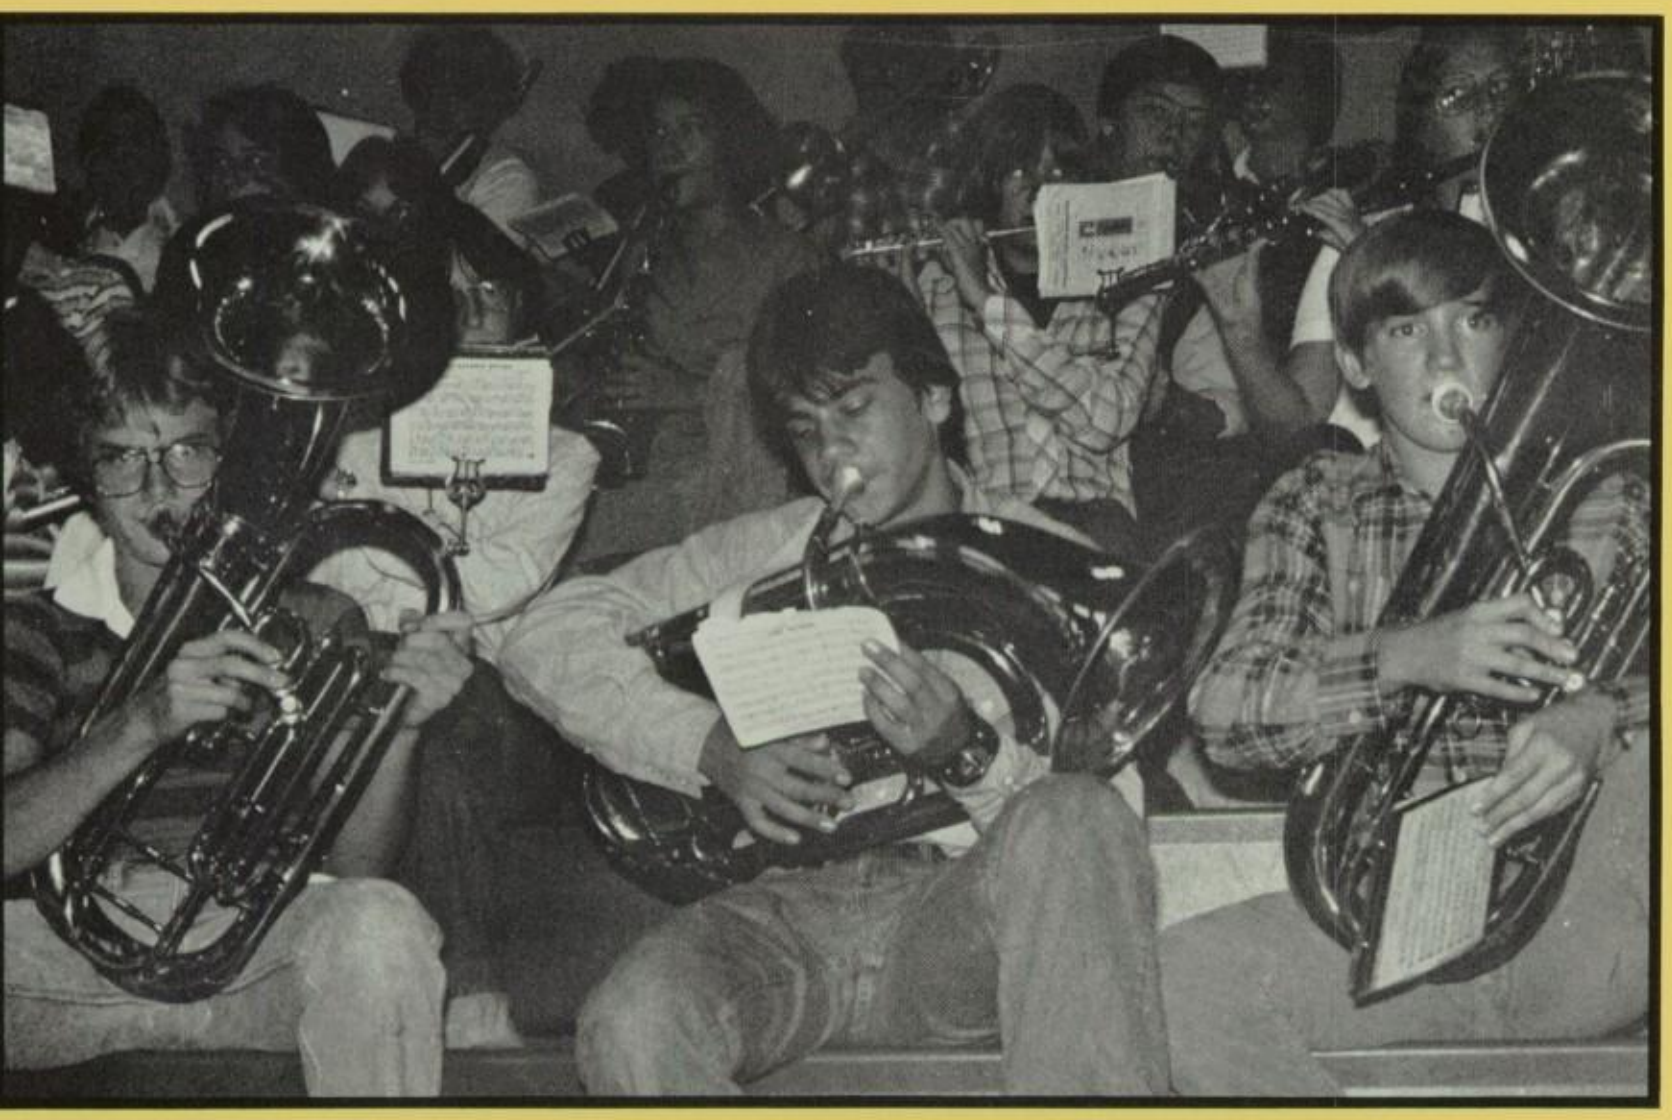
Let the people know you got what you need;

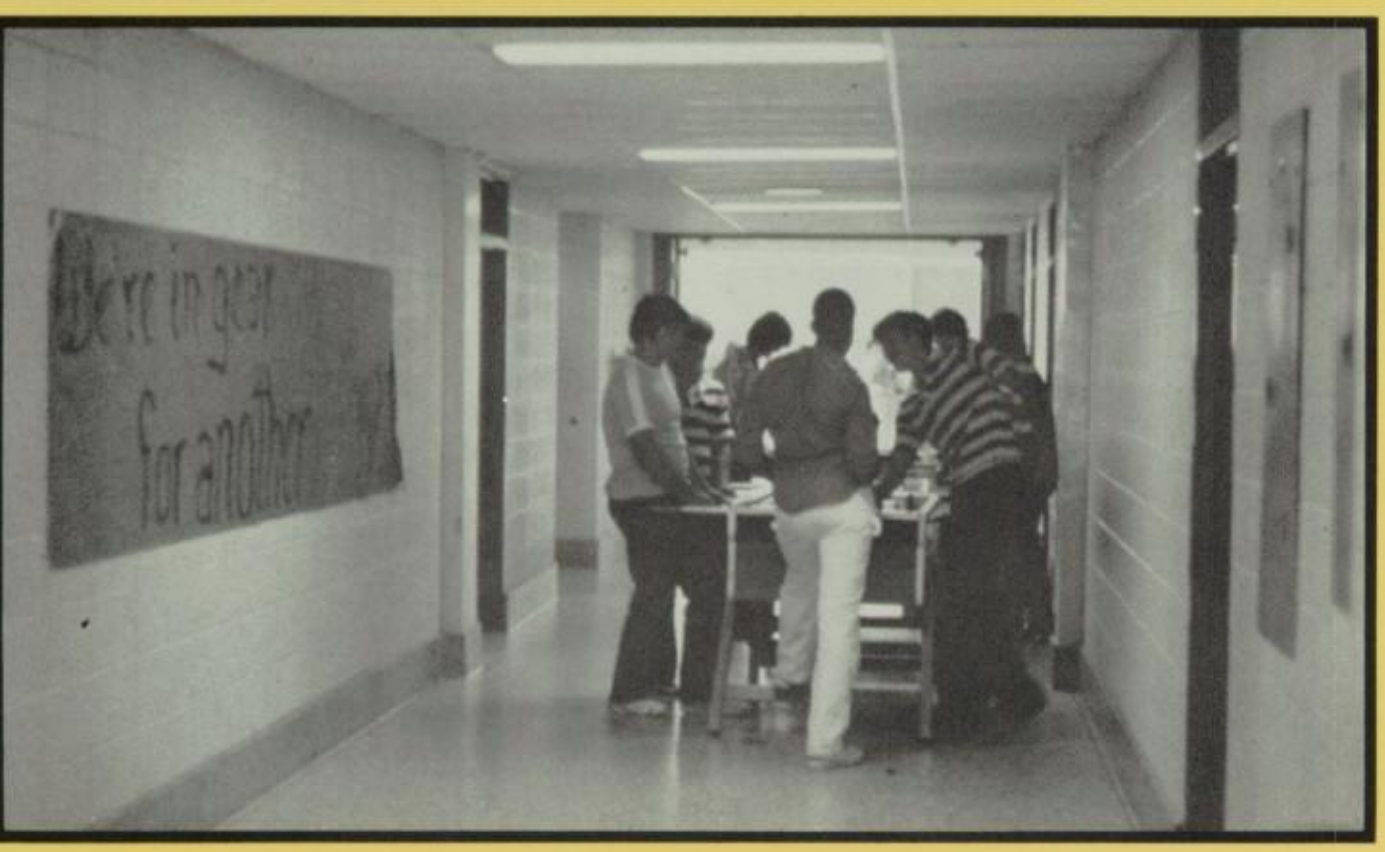
With a friend at hand you will see the light.

If your friends are there, then everything's all right.









IF YOU WANT TO GET SOMEONE'S ATTENTION, WHISPER. Sharron Roberts is surprised by the contents of Sandra Payne's secret.

PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM. Pep band members play during the pep rally for the Homecoming game.

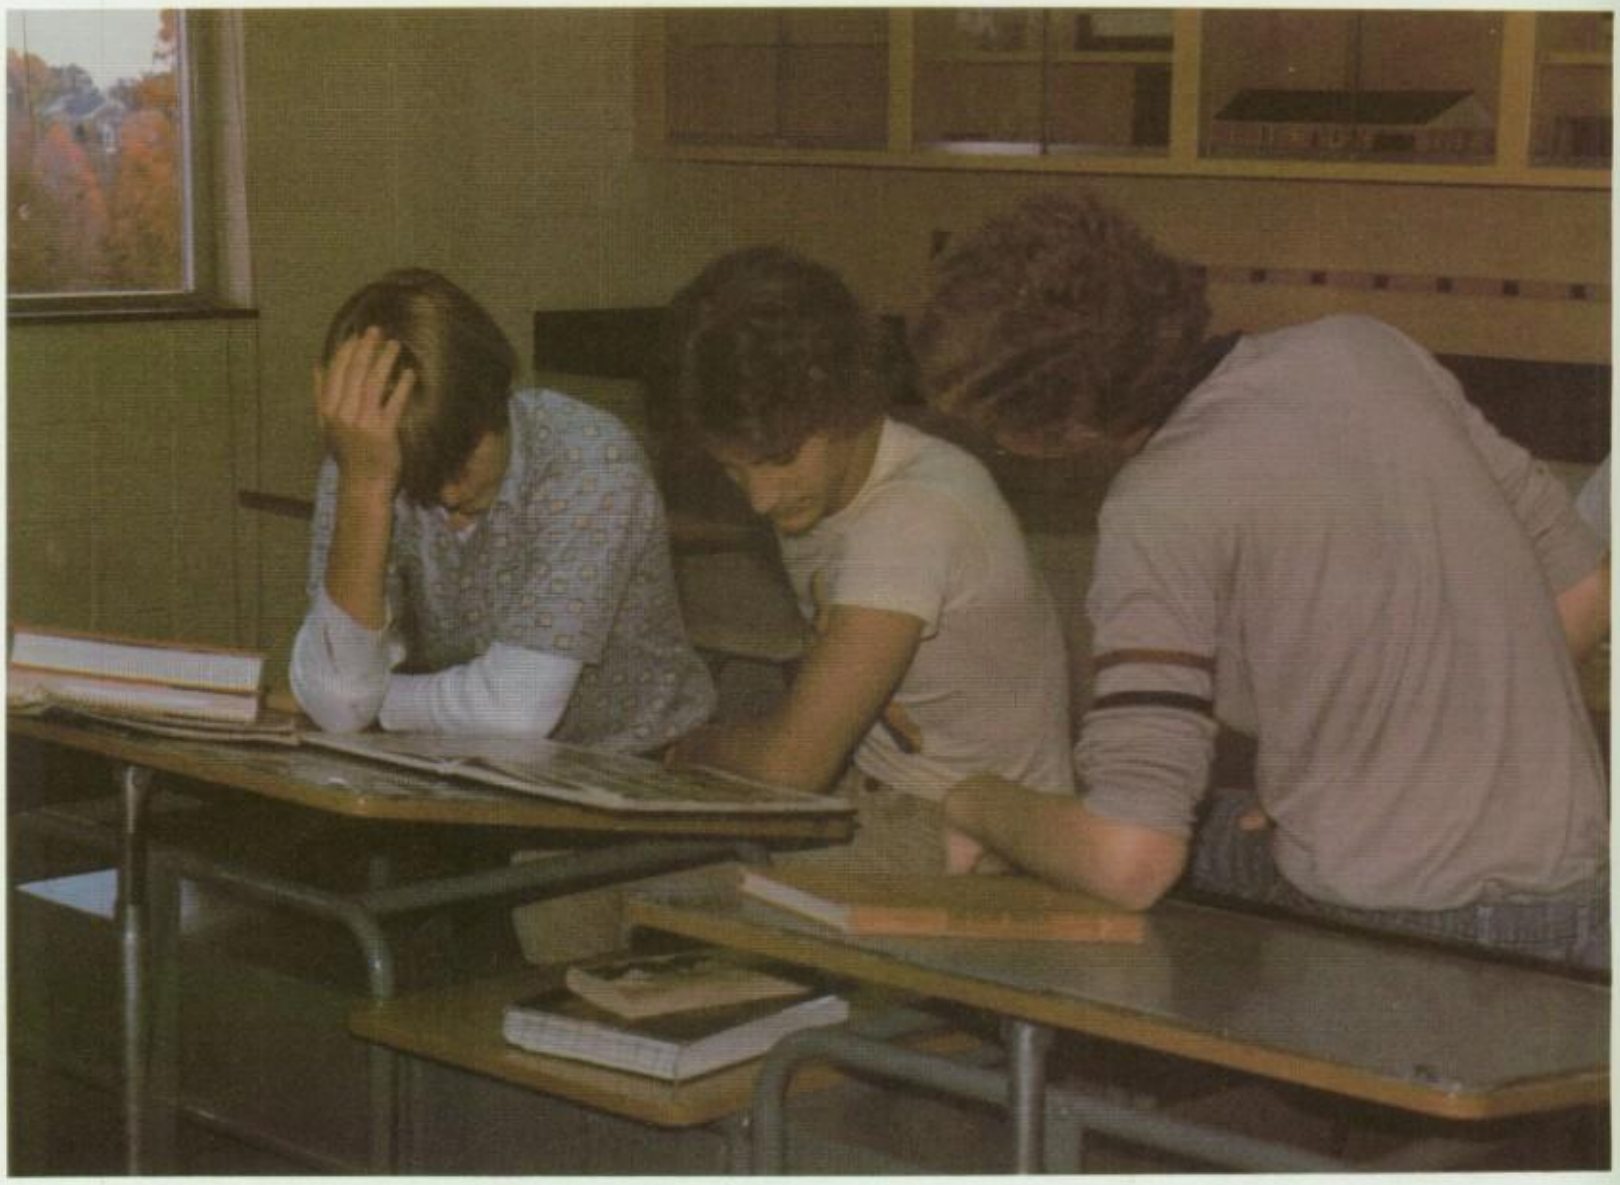
It seems to me a crime that we should age,

These fragile times should never slip us by;

A time you never can or shall erase,

As friends together watch their childhood fly.



DRAFTING? Looks like Billy Thompson, Fred Jeffries, and Gordon Elliot decide to take a break from drafting today.

IS THIS RIGHT? Kim Barber presses a board as Anthony Jeffries looks on with approval.

JUST A LITTLE FURTHER NOW. Becky Meredith assists Lisa Ramos with a back problem at lunch.

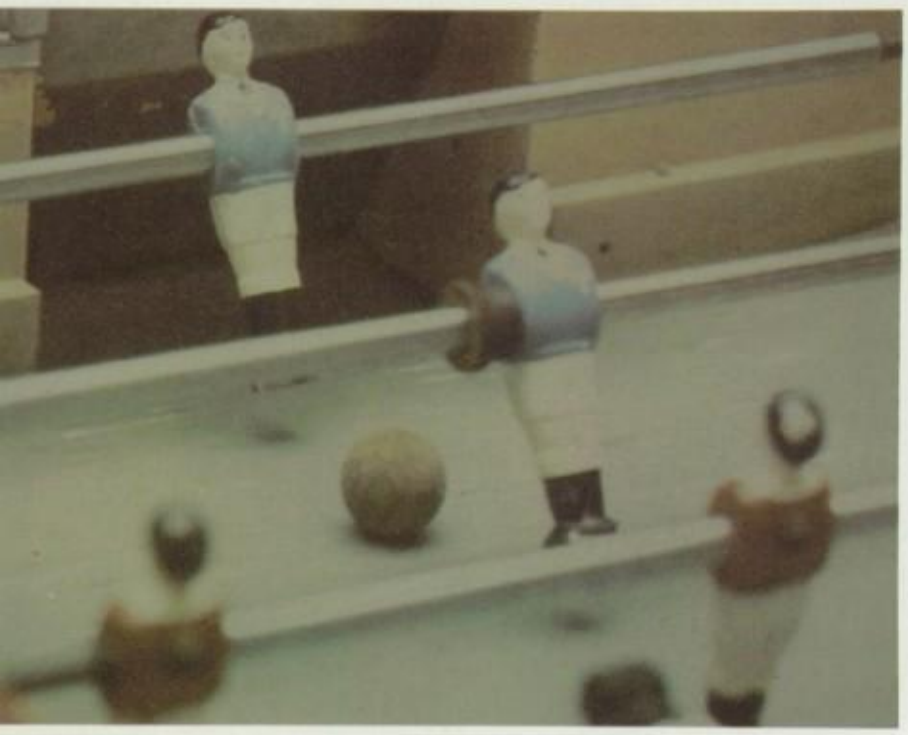
PLAN FOR THE SHOT. An empty footsball table is a rare sight at Western.

LOOK HOW FUNNY HE LOOKS! Freshman take a peek at Western's past in last year's annual.

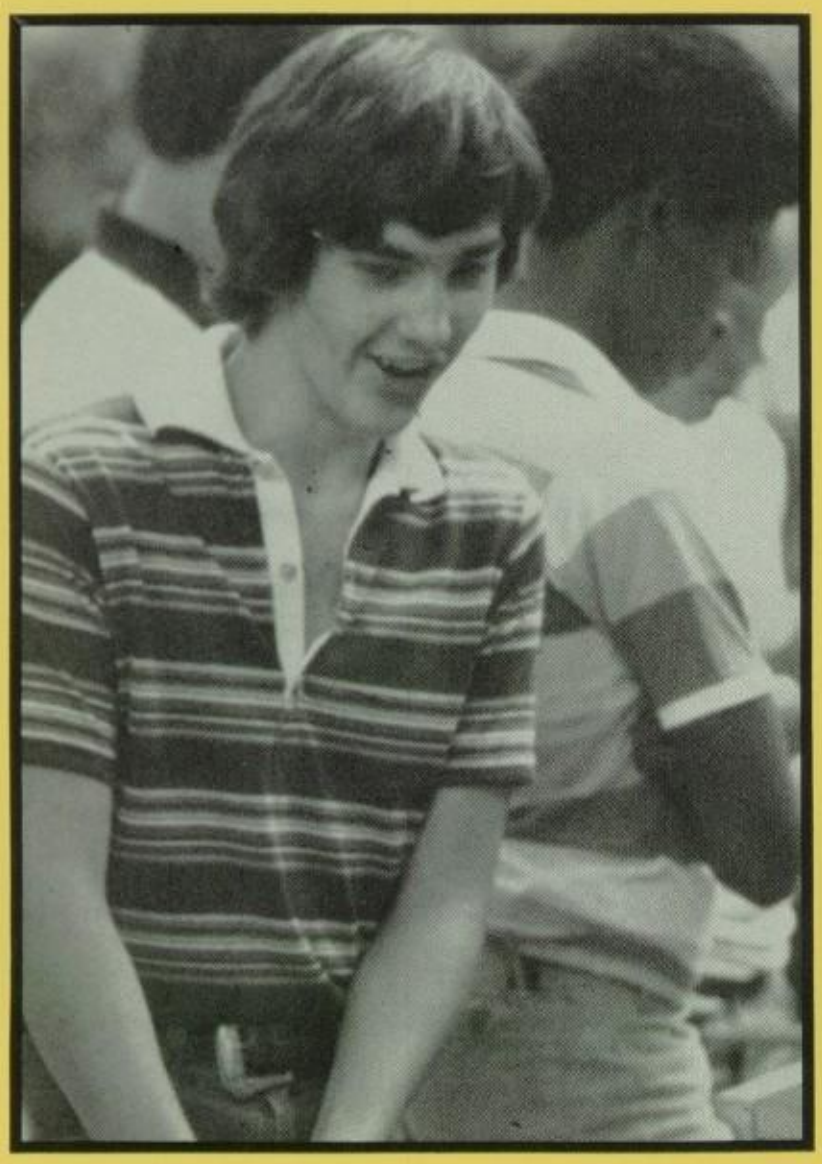


Making friends for the world to see,

Let the people know you got what you need;

With a friend at hand you will see the light

If your friends are there, then everything's all right.



ALL RIGHT. Andy Carter shows excitement over a friendly game of footsball.

A LITTLE POCKET CHANGE? Donna Dickens screams with despair as her Christmas Seal money falls to the floor after it was carefully placed to do just that.

CHIT FOR CHAT. Jennifer Hill talks with Ginny Miller and Laura Doughton during lunch.

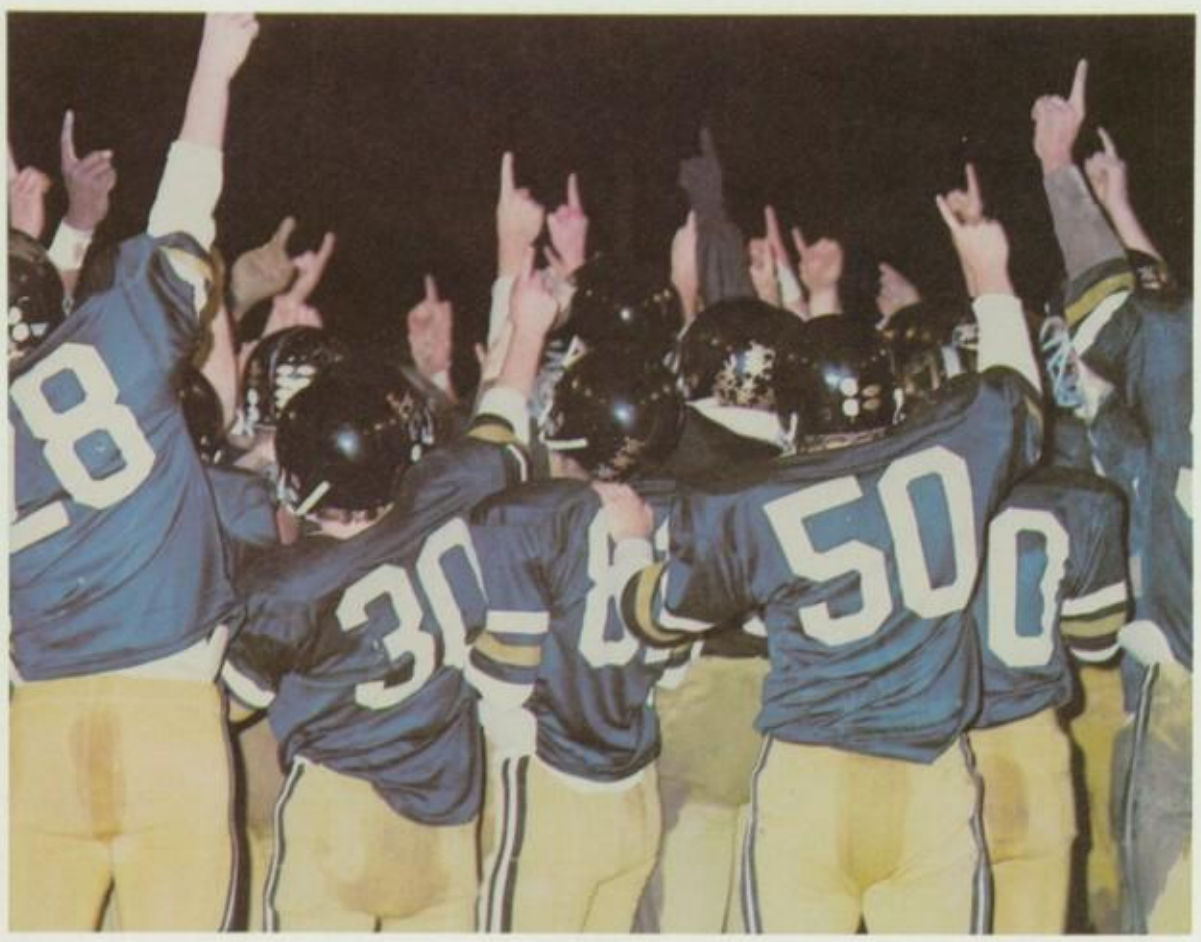
Who's the best?
Black Hats!



The night was cold.
The sky was clear.
The Hornets felt a victory near.
Their spirits high,
Their eyes agleam,
The Hornets were a mighty team.
And as they stormed onto the field,
The crowd's shouts spoke of their great appeal.
Confidence flowed,
And with skill superb,
The opposing team vanished with a blur.
Of course these champs, these comrades knew,
Their team was great and their spirits flew.
And as I heard one Hornet say,
With a confident smile, "We're on our way."
And sure enough their skill remained.
Win after win, great fame they gained.
And at last with the championship chiefly theirs,
The Hornets breathed a sigh dispelling their cares.
A feeling of peace enveloped them all.
Who's the best?
The BLACK HATS, The champs of 3A football!

— Sharron Roberts

ENTHUSIASM! Hornets and Spartans rush the field after the coin toss.
PLAYMAKER. Aaron Stewart sweeps left end for a long gain in the championship game.
TOUCHDOWN! Lewis Rowland chalks up another TD in the second round of the state playoffs against East Wake.

FROM CROWN TO KISS. Co-captain Glenn Morris congratulates Queen Donna Dickens after Co-captain Aaron Stewart crowned her.

Homecoming 1978

An evening to remember

The 1977-78 Homecoming was a time of football, float competition, and reunion.

After the first five minutes of the football game, it was apparent Western would once again "fry" the other team.

At half-time, the varsity and J.V. cheerleaders were at last able to rest from performing the "Fight Song" over and over.

The red carpet was rolled out, and the Homecoming Court was presented to the spectators. After each underclassman attendent and escort had taken their position on the field, the long-awaited moment had finally arrived. Laurie Siler was announced the Maid of Honor and Donna Dickens was crowned and kissed Homecoming Queen.

As the floats and corvettes circled the field (and the one jeep that didn't quite make it), the winner of the float competition was announced — the Sophomores!

After the game ended with a 53-13 victory for the Black Hats, students crowded into the commons area, which had been transformed by the Varsity cheerleaders (with many mothers helping out as well). Hungry fans feasted on the refreshments in the candle-lit cafeteria while "The House of Commons" provided music for the dancers.

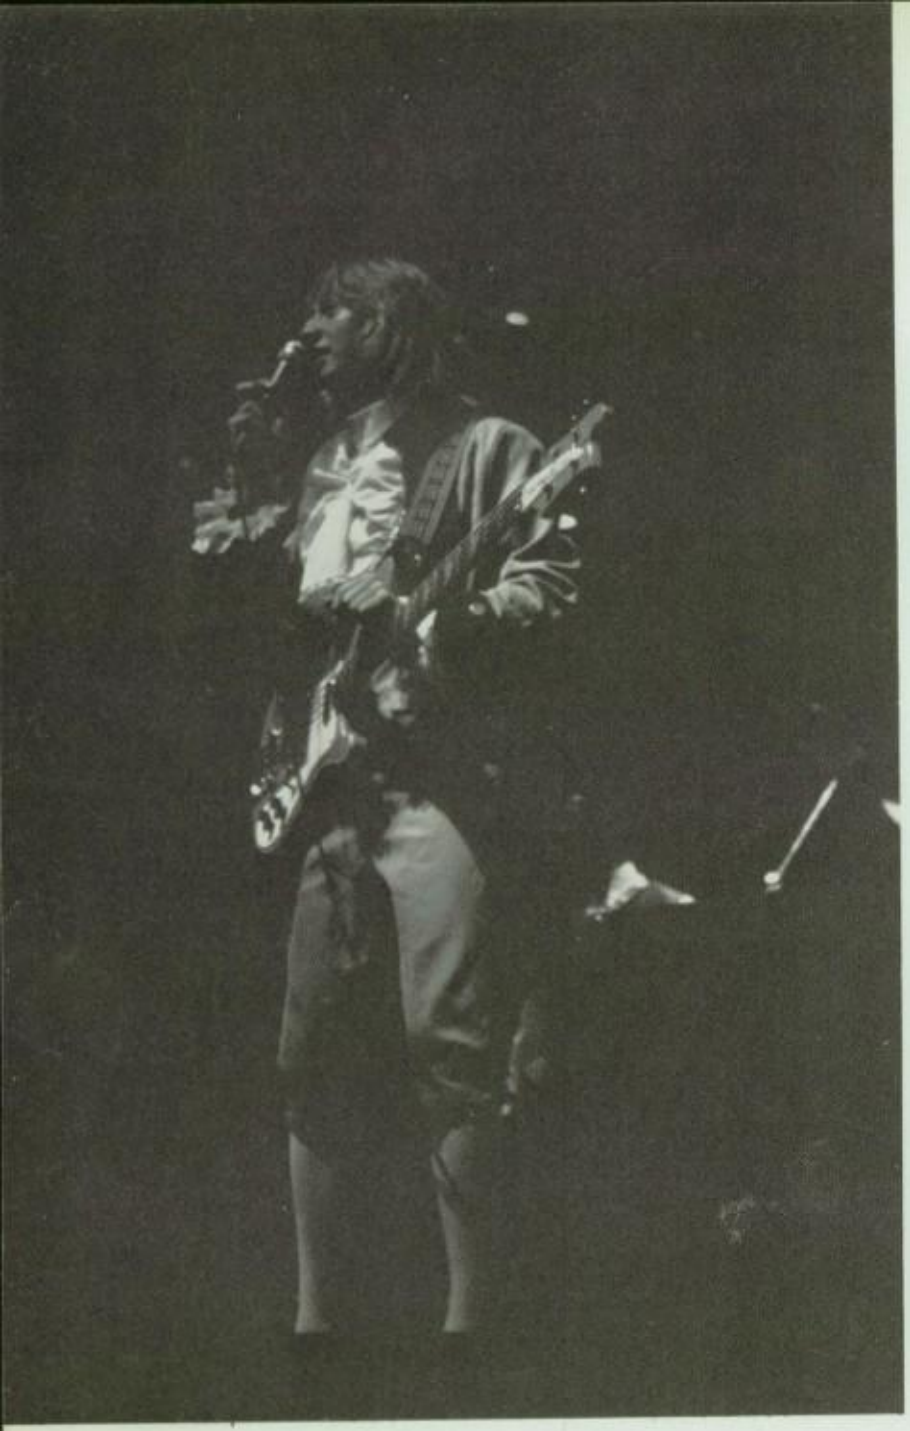
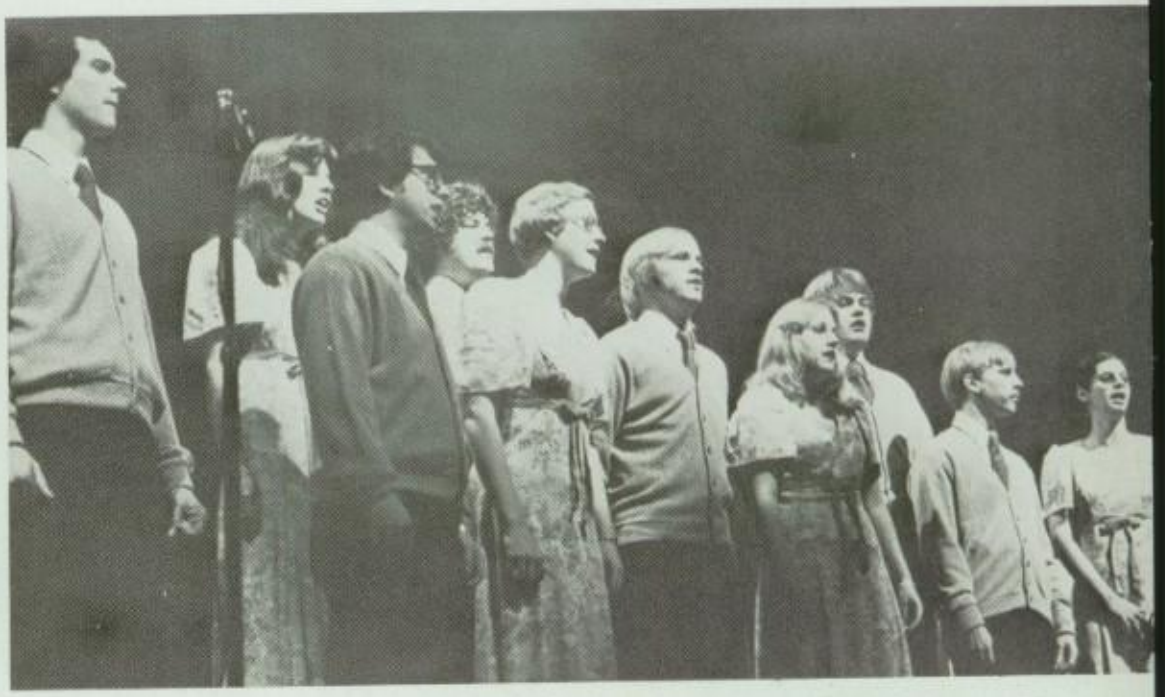
The Homecoming attendents spent most of the evening just tapping their toes as they waited in the office for the formal presentation. Finally, at 11:15 each attendent and her escort climbed the steps and smiled for the cameras. Queen Donna Dickens and escort Kevin Payne led the court dance to the Homecoming theme, "You Light Up My Life."

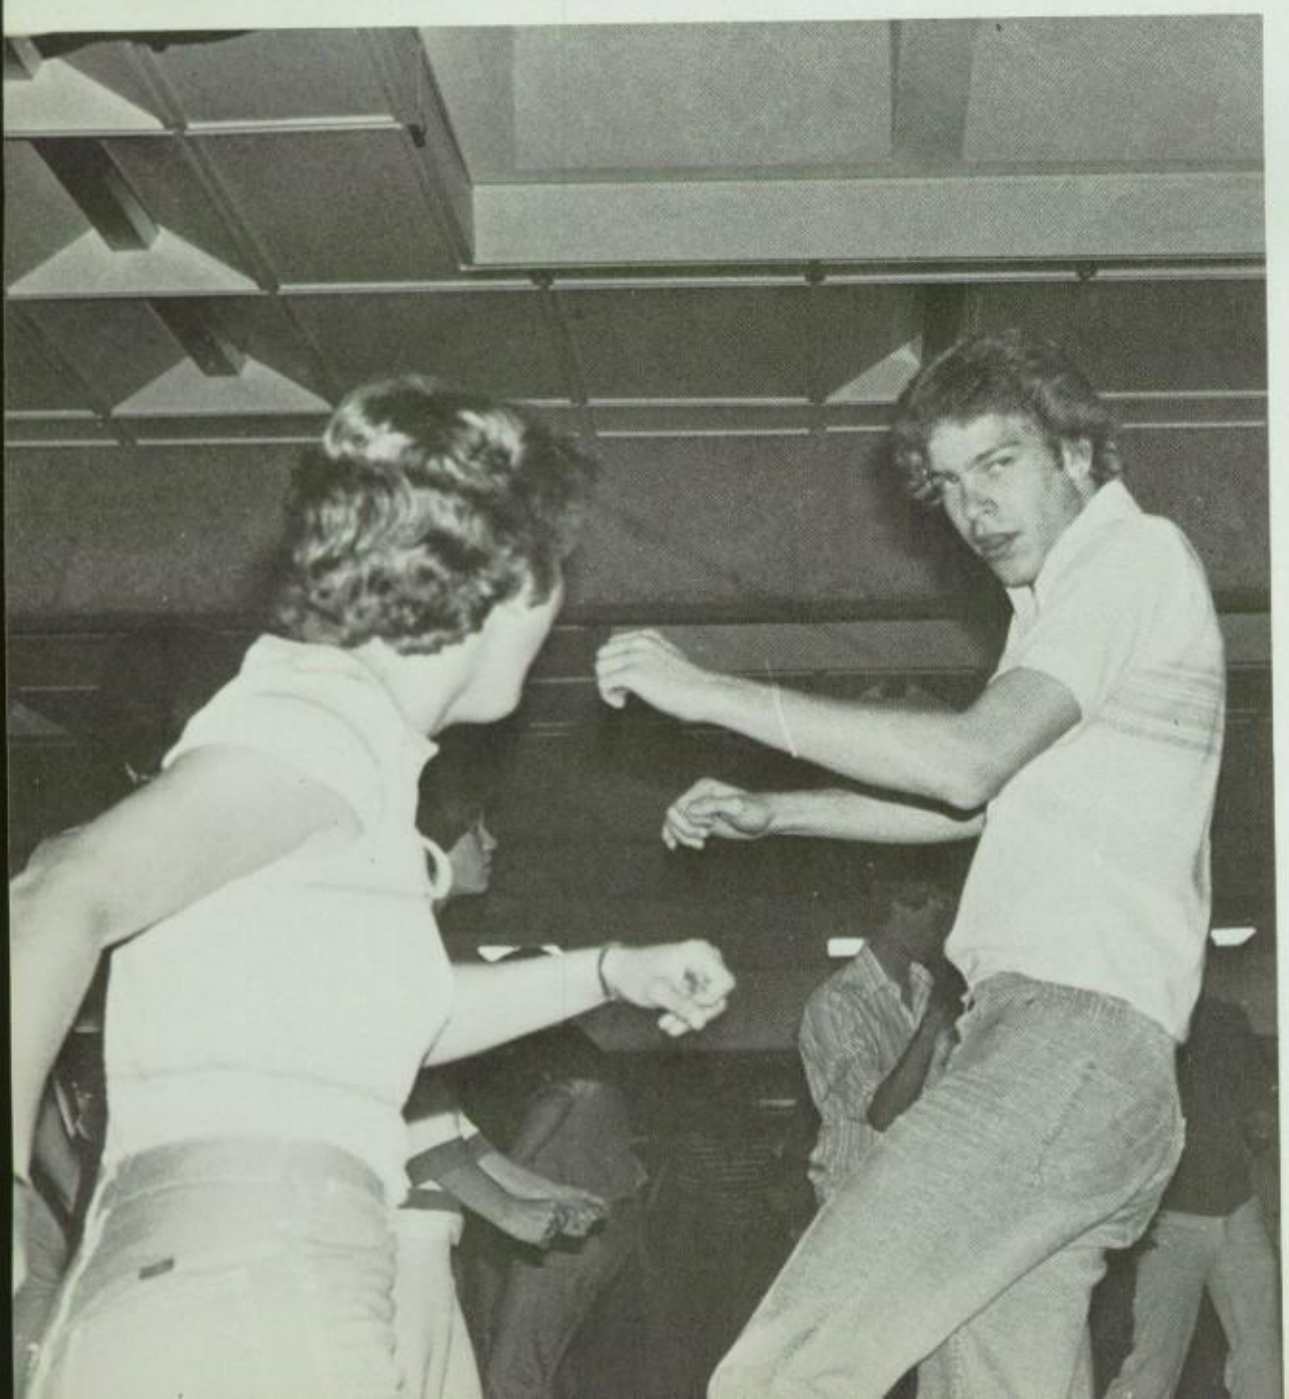
The evening ended rather abruptly as the lights were turned on, bringing the memorable evening to an end.

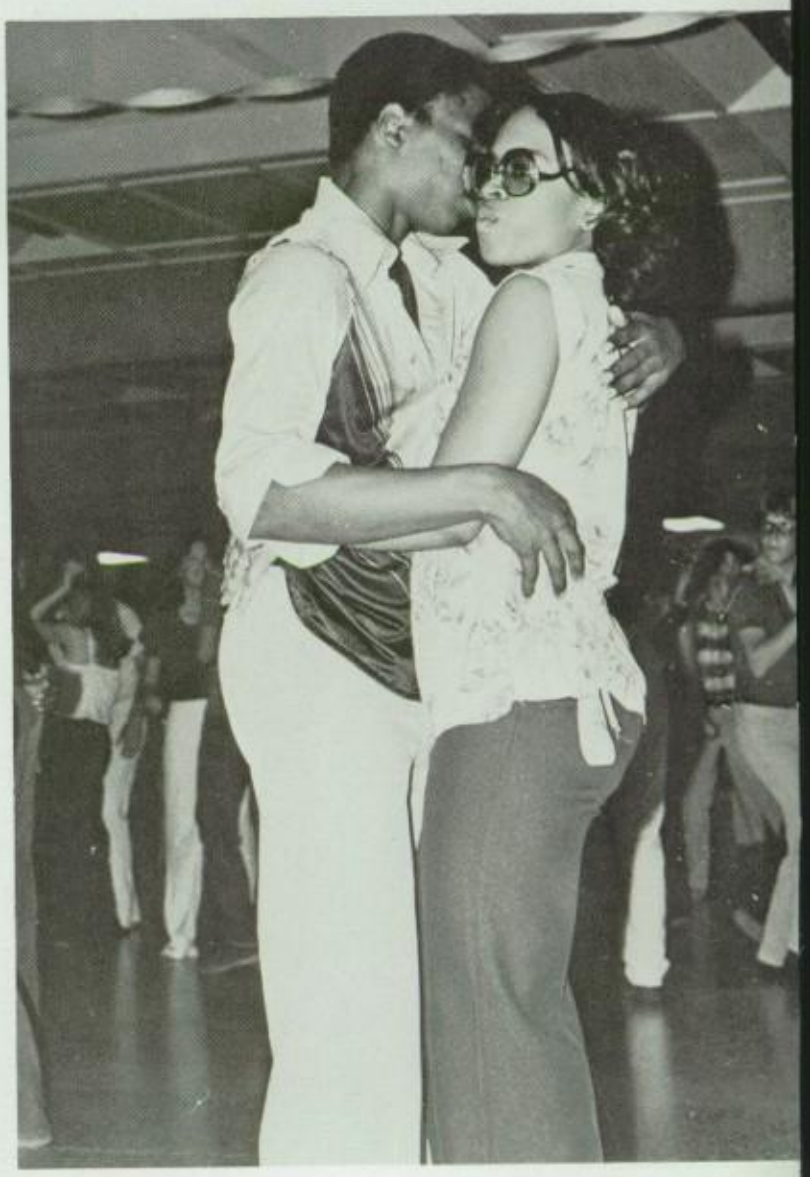
"You Light Up My Life"

OH, WHAT A RELIEF IT IS! Ed Dillingham and date seek refreshments.
JAMMIN'. "The House of Commons" plays "Walk This Way."
MUST BE ALL THAT CONCENTRATION! Eddie Waynick, Laurie Siler, Angie Hendren, and Jim McIntosh wait impatiently for the dance to begin.
WAKE UP, LARRY! Freshman attendent Kathy Threadgill prods escort Larry Reynolds into awareness as the presentation begins after a long wait in the office.
"I'M SO HAPPY!" Queen Donna Dickens beams from her throne as escort Kevin Payne stands by proudly.









Entertainment: Scarce but pleasurable

Due to the hard work of various clubs and organizations, several dances and assemblies have been put on at Western Guilford during the 1977-78 school year. Freedom Jam, one of the first assemblies of the year, was intended to bring out the patriotic spirit of the students.

Music proved to be a major part of the assemblies as programs were put on by Mrs. Hawks' mixed chorus and High Point College Chorus as well as a rock group made up almost completely of Western students.

This same group, called Nightshift, played at a dance sponsored by Civinettes #1 as a welcome to the visitors from Sioux Falls. Several dances were put on, not only to live music but disco music as well. WCOG sponsored Western's first disco of the year when they supplied the music for the Christmas dance.

Craig Pearman coordinated the music for the second disco. Student Council put the dance on and seemed to get a little mixed in the traditional view of dancing and insisted on the girls inviting the guys to this "Twerp Dance."

Besides dancing and listening to music, Western learned a little about Black Heritage from a program put on by the Student Union. Students also caught a glimpse of how to hit a golf ball as some Army men taught Margie Livesay and Donna King in a matter of minutes to hit a golf ball with reasonable accuracy. Another Army group took their lives into their own hands by teaching Toria McGee and Jennifer Hill self-defense techniques.

Assemblies as well as dances were not numerous but were spread so they were looked forward to instead of taken for granted.

THIS IS YOUR COUNTRY. A member of Freedom Jam builds up the American spirit in the students.

LET'S DANCE THE NIGHT AWAY. Kim Nolte and Jim Austad, two exchange students, enjoy dancing with each other as well as students from Western.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC . . . fills the air as the High Point Chorus entertains at an assembly.

GET UP AND BOOGIE. In the middle of the floor Becky Meredith and Jim Nord do their own thing.

MMMM, MMM, GOOD. For Scott Cates and Elmo Gower there is nothing like a snack to get them back dancing again.

AI KOW. An Army martial arts instructor, demonstrates his skill to Joel Durham.

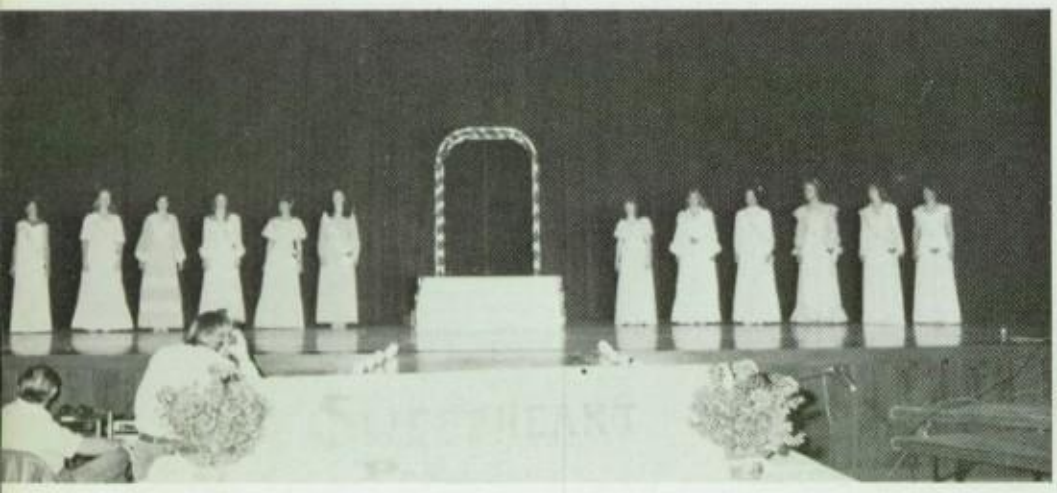
Sweethearts smile in 10th annual pageant



On the night of February 11 at exactly 8:03 the tenth annual Sweetheart Pageant was announced live over the air of WCOG by disc jockey David McDonald. The theme song, "Whenever I See Your Smiling Face," was most appropriate when the curtains opened and there were eleven brightly smiling girls in white bib overalls decorated with hearts and red shirts.

After the opening dance came the street dress competition and then the main event of the pageant — talent competition.

As the girl's went through their talents it did not take any of them long to warm up to the audience and have an appearance of calm self-confidence.

One talent was over the girls modeled evening dresses. Tom Knox and Eddie Waynick escorted them to the ramp where they walked out alone and smiled their brightest to the audience and the judges.

As the evening drew to an end, two special awards were announced: Donna Dickens, Miss Congeneality, and Sheryl Ramsey, talent award.

The moment finally came; the suspense ended. Tammy Waldrop was announced second runner-up and Margie Livesay was announced first runner-up; then Sheryl Ramsey was crowned Miss Sweetheart 1978.

The smiling faces of this night made the pageant a memorable evening for all who participated and attended.

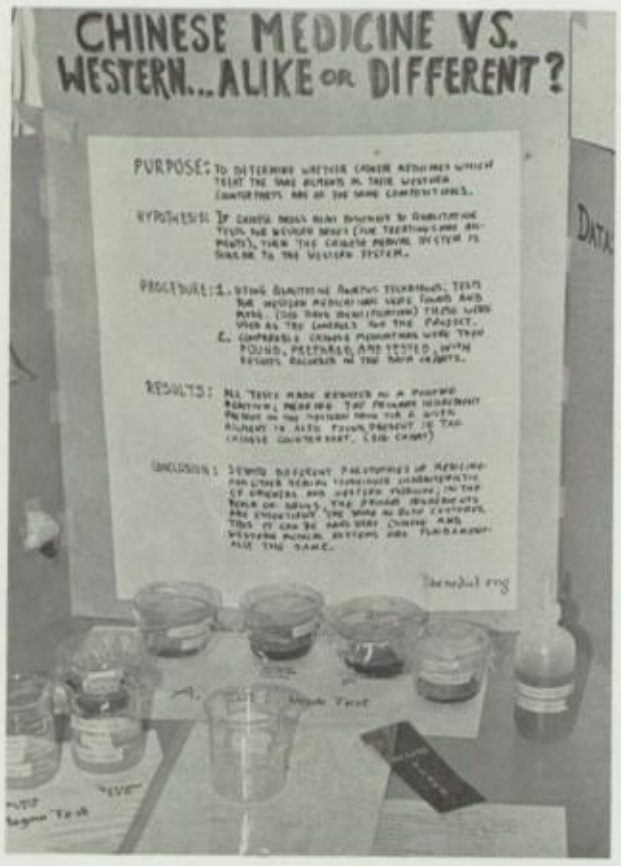
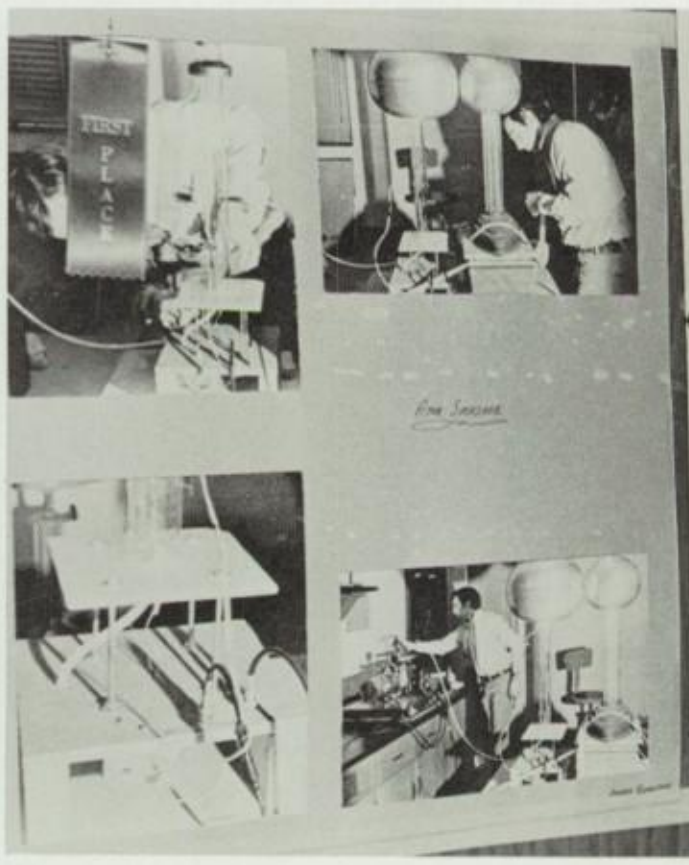
Science Fair presents impressive projects

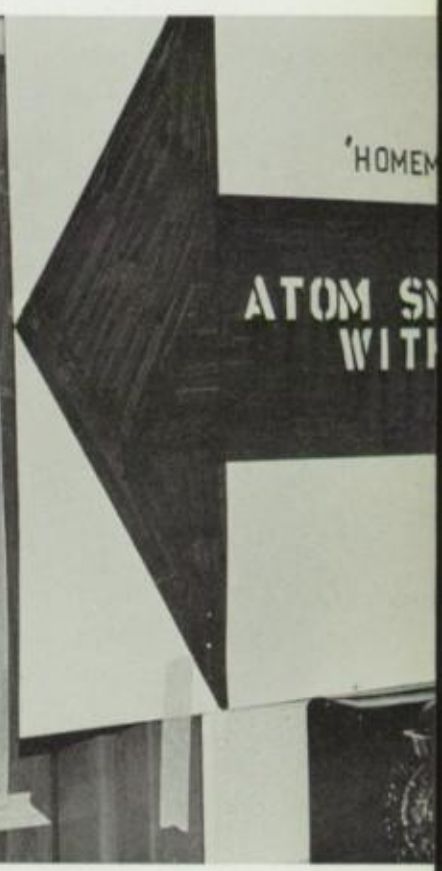


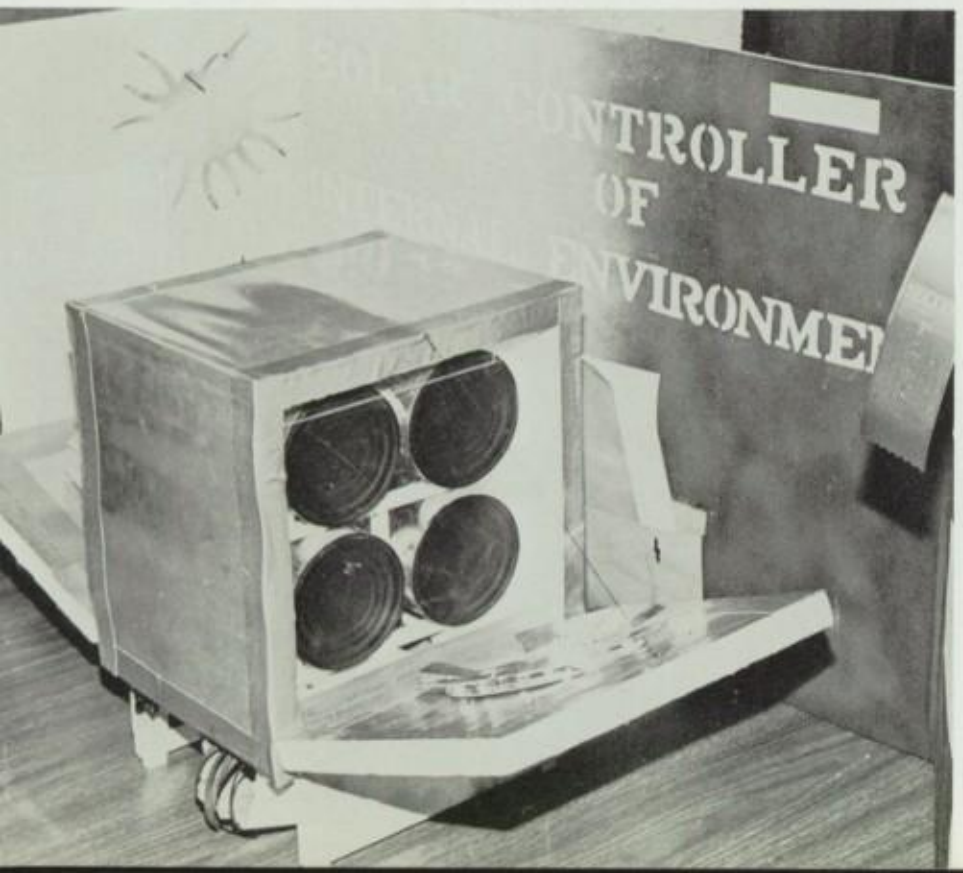
Many students found themselves up until early hours in the morning putting final touches on the science projects that they had either began working on weeks in advance or just started a couple of nights before the final due date.

At any rate, with tired eyes and slowly moving bodies the scientific minds of Western Guilford High School strolled into school, set up their projects, and hoped for the best. For all the students their efforts were rewarded with a sense of relief and for some there was even a feeling of accomplishment. And for several students this feeling of accomplishment also meant special awards given to them for their outstanding projects. The winners were as followed.

Biology (Junior Division)
1st place — Dick Lee
2nd place — Cheryl Pearman
3rd place — Karen Eckleman;
Biology (Senior Division)
1st place — Joy Britt
2nd place — Benedict Eng
3rd place — Tina Gibbs and Nona Michaux;
Physical Science (Junior)
1st place — Gail Hunter
2nd place — Colleen Koutsky
3rd place — Eddy Rose and Chris Simmons;
Physical Science (Senior):
1st place — Perry Robertson
2nd place — Frank Long
3rd place — Figen Ciloglu and Amy McGuire.







YOU ARE SO BEAUTIFUL! Miss Sweetheart 1978, Sheryl Ramsey, cries tears of happiness as she smiles from on stage.
"I'M THE GREATEST STAR!" Emily Smith capitivates the audience during her talent competition.
STEP THIS WAY! The 1978 Sweetheart contestants find out that dancing on stage can be fun.
WHAT AILS YOU? Benedict Eng won second place in the Science Fair when he discovered that Chinese medicine has the same effect as its western counterpart.
YOU LOOKIN' AT ME? The gerbil examines the people while the people examine him.
THE MAD DR. ROBERTSON! Perry Robertson's Atom Smasher won first place in the Science Fair in the Senior Physical Science Division.
HEAT FOR THE FUTURE! Colleen Koutsky's project on solar energy demonstrates home heating of the future.

A possible exchange program was the topic of conversation in the spring of '77. In the fall of '77 it became a reality for 34 students and three advisors.

Meetings were immediately begun to plan the many unimaginable details. All meetings were held at night to enable both parents and students to become involved.

Realizing quickly the expense involved, a concerted effort was begun to raise money. They had bake sales, suppers, doughnut and pecan sales, and even sponsored a basketball game between the faculty and the Channel 2 News team.

At last all the preparations were complete, the rules explained and it was time to board the bus at 5:00 p.m. on January 27. Both students and advisors Mr. and Mrs. David Girardi and Mr. Bill Hunter knew the inside of that bus very well before the two day ride was over.

After one night on the bus and one night in Kansas City, Sioux Falls was a welcome and a welcoming sight. A student from one school was paired with a student from the other, and each was quickly recognized from earlier correspondence.

Western students attended classes at Lincoln High School an average of two hours each day. The rest of the day was filled with all sorts of tours, sporting events, and even television appearances.

Sioux Falls students enjoyed the opportunity to introduce the Southerners to a variety of winter sports from tobagganing to snow mobiling. After an afternoon of activity, the evenings usually ended with a get-together at someone's house to warm up.

Sioux Falls Exchange yields new friends

After a teary departure on February 4 and another long bus ride, preparations at home were begun in earnest as soon as the exchangers recovered from the trip. The week of April 2-7 finally arrived, and the time had come to display some real Southern hospitality.

Besides attending school in the mornings, the South Dakota visitors visited Winston-Salem and toured Guilford Battleground and the Greensboro Historical Museum. But for most, the highlight of the trip was a visit to the beach, a first for many of the exchange students.

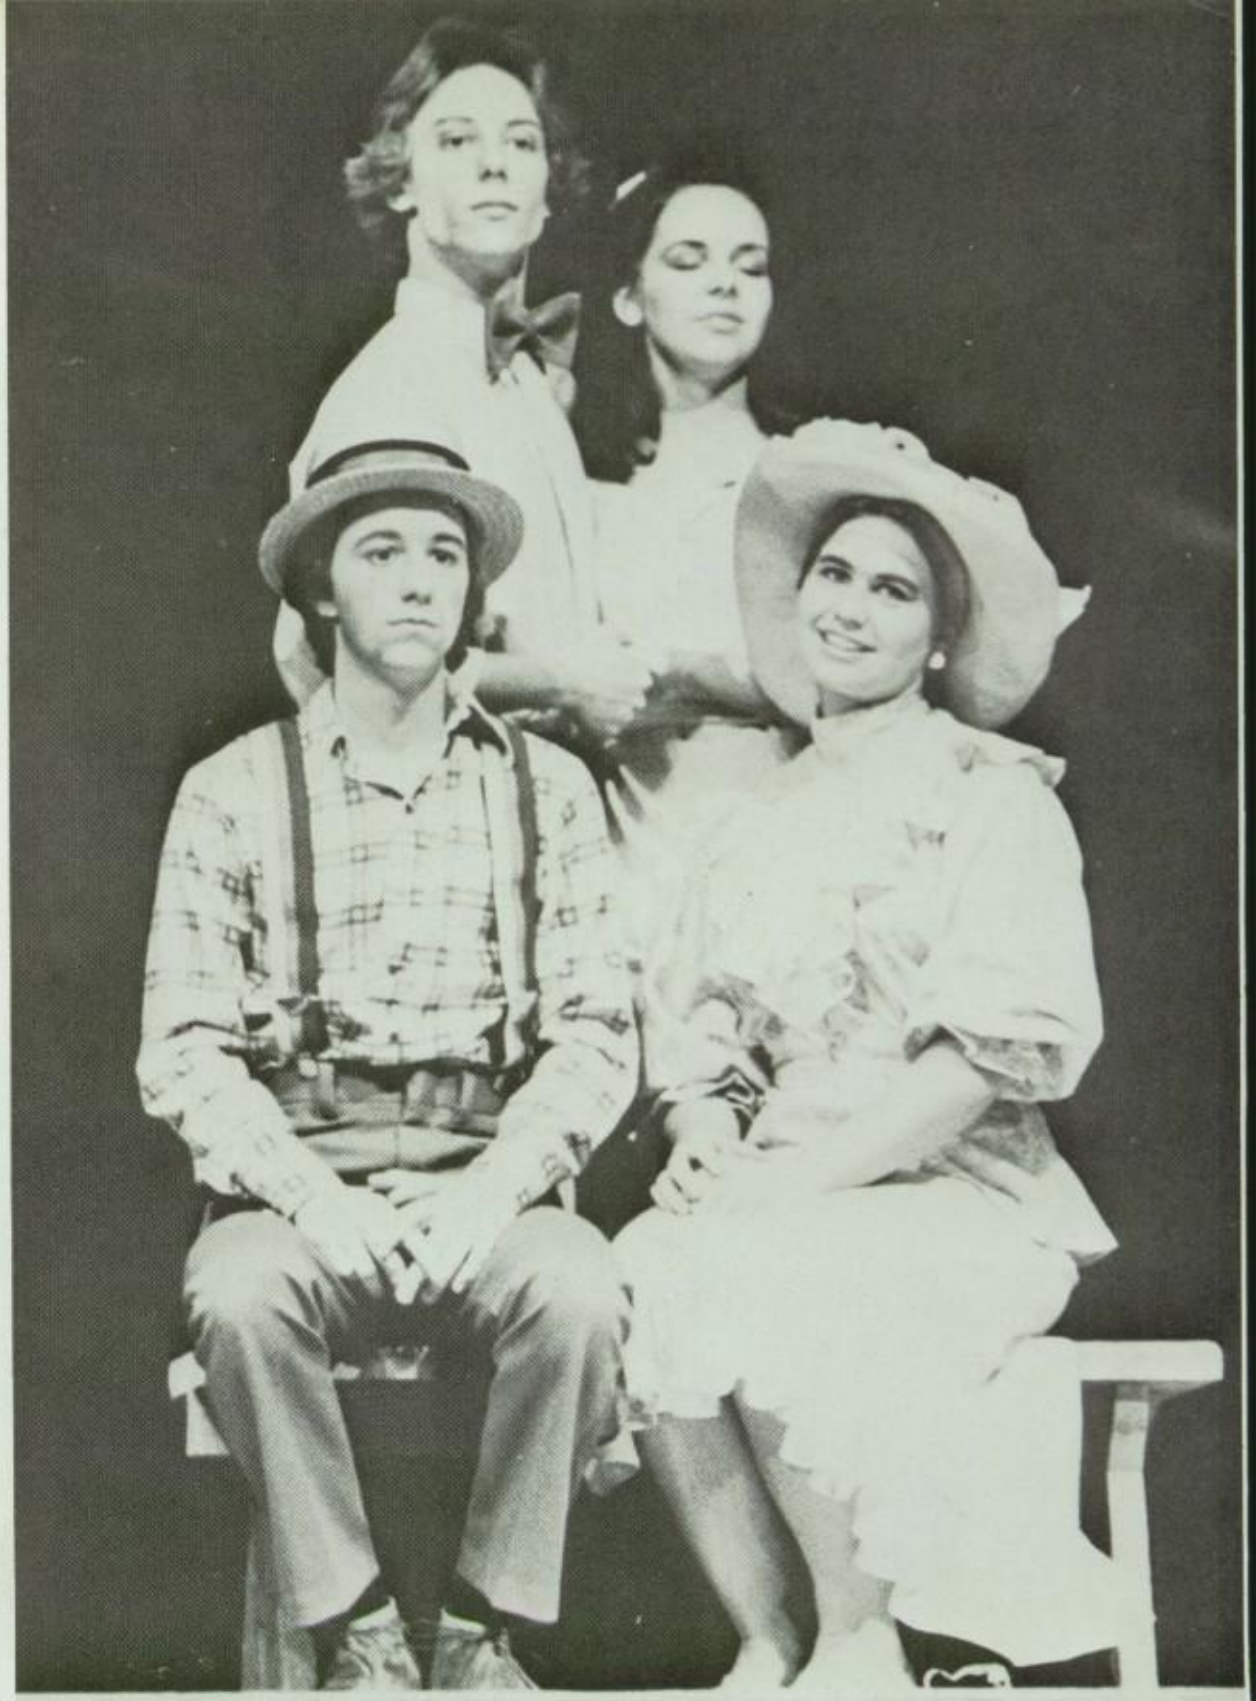
Each night, dinners, picnics, and banquets were planned. But when the morning of the going-away breakfast arrived, food was not really noticed as students said their good-byes and made plans to get together during the summer.

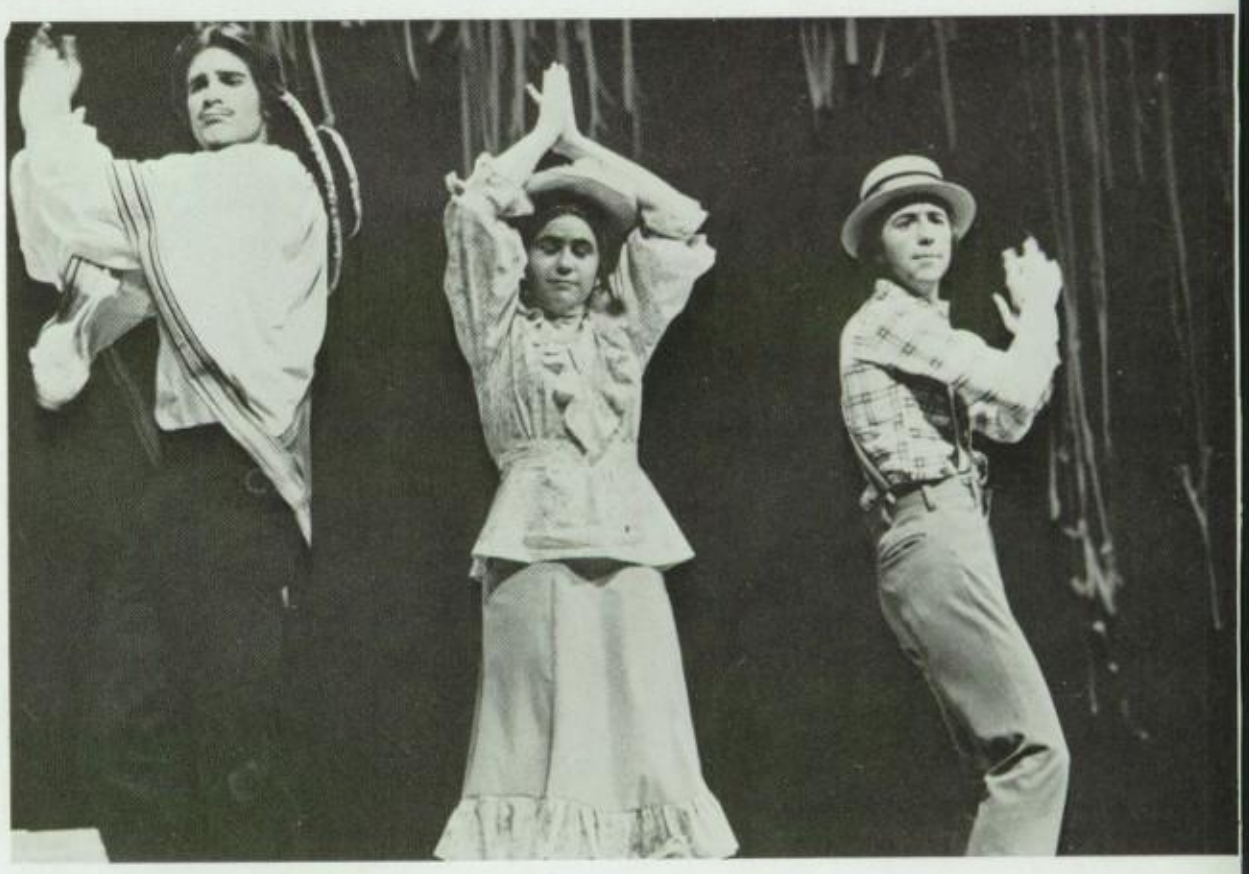
As the bus came in sight, so did the tears. Students and advisors Mr. Bill Hoff and Mr. and Mrs. Luther waved their goodbyes as they began their journey home by way of Washington, D.C.

Not only for the students involved, but for the whole student body, the exchange program definitely proved one thing — "No matter how far away or how different our ways of life are, basically we're all the same."

THE ONLY WAY TO GO. The beautiful South Dakota country side is covered with snow during the winter months and snowmobiles prove to be nice to have around.
WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER. Lincoln and Western students find out that people everywhere have a great deal in common.
SIOUX FALLS BOUND. Western took the Grayhound bus offer to go any place and they chose Sioux Falls as their destination.
WESTERN'S SMILES SHINE. Mr. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Girardi are all full of smiles as Tim Bondurant lets them in on exchange news.
PUT YOUR BEST FACE FORWARD. A group of students out for a pizza express their feelings through facial expression.
"THANK GOD I'M A COUNTRY BOY." Lincoln had a special assembly on "Western" day.
"THANK YOU FOR BEING A FRIEND!"

SERENITY Craig Pearman, Amy Caroll, Joy Britt, and Jack McConnell pose for a family portrait.
JUST ONE MINUTE! David Allen, Jack McConnell, and Roy Whitfield discuss how life is down that certain road.
SEPARATE BUT TOGETHER Jack McConnell and Joy Britt Share their ideas of love from either side of the "wall."
"HOW?" David Allen is bewildered at how his wig is supposed to stay secured.
MUSICAL TRIBUTE. The cast of the Fantasticks salute the musicians that made it all possible.
OLE. Fred Black, Amy Caroll, and Craig Pearman celebrate their choice of a first class rape.
"TRY TO REMEMBER." Fred Black sets the mood with an introductory song.





The Fantasticks teaches a parable of love

"Try to remember when life was so tender/that dreams were kept beside your pillow . . ."

The FANTASTICKS, a parable about love, helped its audience experience this feeling when it was presented May 1-2 at 8:00 and May 3 for the school.

As they play begins, Matt and Luisa, played by Jack McConnell and Joy Britt, the boy and girl next door, have fallen in love. They think their parents will disapprove but actually Flora Belle and Hucklebee, played by Amy Caroll and Craig Pearman, schemed to throw the two together by pretending a feud. A rape is set up with help from El Gallo (Fred Black), Mortimer (David Allen), and Henry (Roy Whitfield), but when Matt and Luisa learn the truth, it rearranges their feelings about one another and their moon turns out to be just cardboard. Three mutes, Sheryl Ramsey, Julie Renfrow, and Machell Walters, provide necessary props as September became December. Matt finally learns the despair that lies down that road and he returns to be reunited with Luisa.

The performances were a culmination of rehearsals which began April 4 and frequently lasted until 11:00. Director Jo Bray and music director Maggi Hawks combined their creative ability to readjust the play to fit the players and voices of the student actors. Drama classes and parents combined efforts in the staging and costuming and the business department took care of programs.

This was a special event that no one will have to "try to remember". It was too good to forget.

Junior-Senior: "Always and Forever"

It must take a special night to get the girls to give up their jeans for long gowns and the guys to shell out 40 dollars for a tuxedo. The cost of the evening increases when one considers tickets and dinner (and the girl's idea of dinner is not MacDonald's). But most agree the night is usually worth the cost and effort.

The cost and effort begin long before the night itself, however. The traditional magazine sale started slowly but ended successfully, as juniors searched for a location and a band.

The Oriental Shrine Club and the music of the "Southern Express" turned out to be a winning combination in spite of the heat being turned on in the building.

Gallons of punch were consumed as students boogied, shagged, and hustled the night away.

The result was a night to be remembered always and forever.

REFRESHMENT TIME! Lee Nixon eagerly awaits his punch after a fast dance.
WE WORKED HARD! During the presentation ceremony, Bill Whitley thanks the students and faculty for their cooperation.
SAY CHEESE! Jackie Sharpe and Wes Neal pose for their traditional prom pictures.
BOY IS IT HOT! Ginger Wilson, Darryl Bozavich, Susan Freeman and Chris Hammock take it easy after proving their dancing abilities.
DANCE! DANCE! DANCE! Students display their lightness of feet.

The 1978 Awards Day ceremonies did not go as smoothly as usual. The underclassmen waited impatiently while the 198 seniors marched in; then promptly sat down, forgetting the traditional "Pledge of Allegience," and had to stand again.

Certain names were heard more frequently than others, but the one that Mr. Walters never did get right was Figen Ciloglu.

Other confusion resulted in Jennifer Hill's recognition for Girls' State the wrong year, and Allyson Bishop and Charles Wallington being admitted empty-handed into Quill and Scroll (whatever that is).

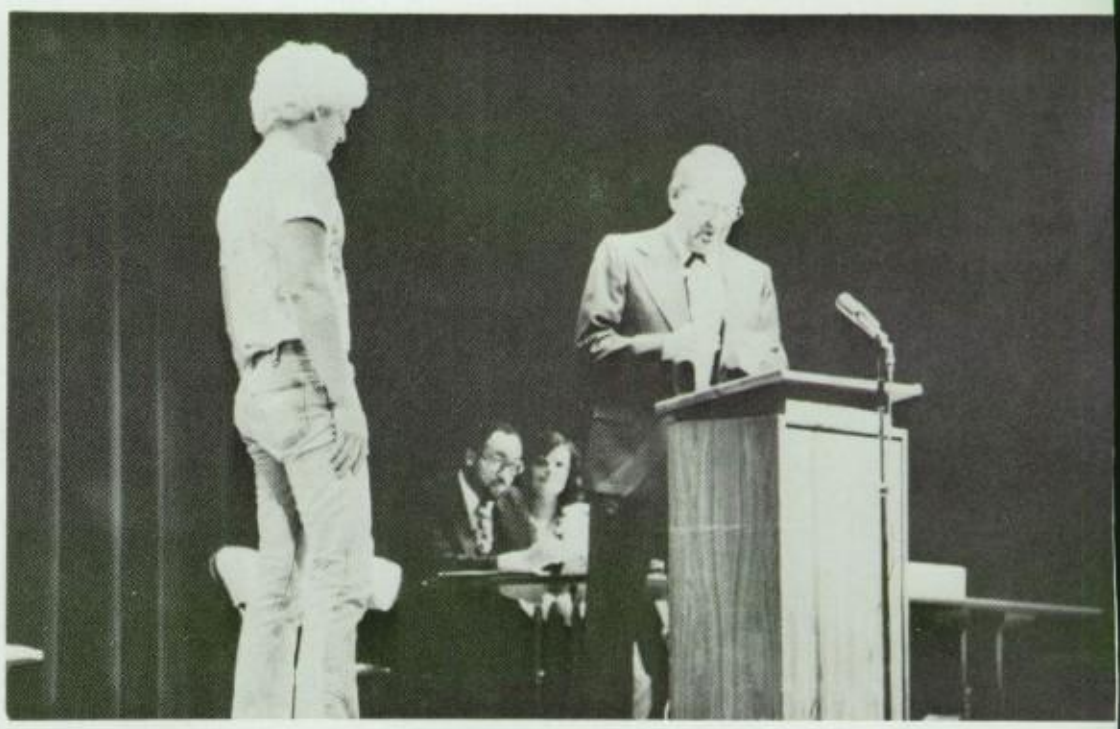
Other students were instructed to pick up their awards later as many letters and certificates had not arrived.

In spite of this, the ceremonies lasted well into third period.

At last, senior Clay Hopcroft said his farewell and commented encouragingly, "If I can make it, anybody can."

Iris Hamilton concluded the program singing "The Way We Were" to a suddenly nostalgic audience.

Another long processional, and the seniors were out with a shout. But that was not the end. There was still the traditional "moving up" as freshmen, sophomores, and juniors scrambled to the seats they would occupy next year. From their new seats, students applauded for the 131st time that morning and the 1978 Awards Day ceremonies were over.



GOSH! Mary Evans receives the Woodman of the World American History Award from Mr. Bob Payne.
CONGRATULATIONS! Bill Loftin is congratulated for winning the History Award.
GOOD WORK. Laurie Siler, Chuck Adams, and Terri Sowers recieve the band award.

"What is Precious is Never to Forget"

The graduation ceremonies for the class of '78 will never be forgotten by the seniors who litterally "sweated" it out, after finishing their last exams only ten hours before. The rainy, humid weather forced graduation ceremonies into a crowded gymnasium.

The 198 seniors marched into the gym to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." After an invocation by Keith Leinbach and a scripture reading by Sam Jeffers, the chorus entertained.

Becky Meredith introduced the theme of the student speeches, "What is Percious is Never to Forget," and Debra McMahan, Esther Platt, David Cannell, Ben Eng, and Allison Callicott then explored the idea further in their speeches.

Mr. Walters concluded his final farewell with recognition of honor students Becky Meredith, Terry Sowers and Debra McMahan and the announcement of Ben Eng as valedictorian and Allison Callicott as saluditorian.

At last the time had arrived for the presentation of diplomas by Mr. Russell Hudson, chairman of the school advisory council, but no one seemed to know exactly how to get started. Rows of seniors at a time filed out of the gym to circle around through the hallway (and complain of the heat, adjust their hats, grab a drink from the machine and practice shaking hands) before making that last long walk across the gym floor.

After the tassles were turned, there came a surprise — a repeat performance by Iris Hamilton of "The Way We Were" in a darkened gym. The seniors gave her a standing ovation and then all stood for the benediction by Terry Sowers.

Teary eyed seniors broke into grins as they streamed into the commons area, and the sounds of celebration soon drowned out Handel's "Largo." As the last graduate marched out, a shout went up. It was over.

ANTICIPATION! A variety of emotions are obvious as students wait to line up.
IF WE EVER GET OUT OF HERE! Seniors wait impatiently to march out of the gym.
LET ME HELP YOU. The Jr. Marshalls struggle to get ready for the graduation ceremonies.
HOLD ONTO YOUR CAPS! Ben Eng tells his fellow graduates "I shall never forget all of you"
FINALLY! Edwin McClanton GLADLY accepts his diploma from Mr. Russell Hudson.

Varsity cheerleaders arouse school spirit

School let out for the summer, and that's when the real job began for the cheerleaders. Each cheerleader was required to get to a summer camp where she learned new chants, cheers, pom pom routines, and spirit- raising ideas. Camp was soon over, and the girls returned to school to fill the halls and the common area with signs and posters.

Each year the varsity take pride in presenting the Homecoming Dance. This was especially true in 1978 since the football team was doing so well.

The cheerleaders agreed that the highlight of the year was cheering the team to victory in the State Championship.

Posters! Practice! Pep rallies!

These took up much time for the J.V. cheerleaders. Beginning practice in the summer, the girls even returned to school two weeks early to get the school in the spirit of things.

The many highlights of the season included winning the J.V. conference championship and cheering with the varsity squad at the homecoming game and the state championship pep rally.

"T-H-I-N-K" was the favorite of the many new cheers the 9th grade cheerleaders had to learn for the J.V. girls' and 9th grade boys' basketball games.

With the help of their sponsors, Mrs. Hopper and Mrs. Hodges, the girls learned to work hard as a team.

"WE'RE #1!" Cindy Slatton and Lisa Ramos jump for joy after scoring a touchdown.

Majorettes twirl through the year

In early June the newly selected majorettes got right to work on new routines, practicing five days a week, two to three hours each day.

In addition to practice, the girls worked (played?) washing car windows. With the money they earned, they bought new uniforms and attended a camp at Meredith College.

There they learned several new routines using fire, streamers, hoops, hats, and canes.

These routines were a great success at both football and basketball games, proving true the saying the girls picked up at camp: "Majorettes do it better, but WHS majorettes do it best."

"Atten-hut! Mark time mark . . ."

The Color Guard took on a whole new appearance and personality this year. There were nine new girls out of a squad of ten to go along with the new equipment and uniforms.

The girls worked long, tiring hours on new routines, techniques, and skills which they learned in a week of camp at Campbell College during the summer.

Band tunes in new music

While swimming or playing tennis this summer, one might have heard the sounds of squawking horns and bass drum beats floating through the heat as band members gathered to practice in early August.

This practice was evident at each football half-time as the band performed new routines to the beat of the drums and the sway of the fringe on the new uniforms.

Even with football games almost every week through the fall, the band still found time to play at a Boy Scout Jamboree and march in High Point's Christmas Parade on Thanksgiving Day.

To start the new year the band members struggled through selling rally tickets (they're only a dollar!). The $200.00 prize was won by Richard L. Rose at the drawing halftime of the basketball game February 10.

A year of hard work was concluded by entry into the spring concert for proud parents and music-lovers.

A team of destiny

In the hot, dry days of August, a large group of young men assembled. Many dropped out, but those who remained became a team called the "Black Hats."

Their first game provided the Black Hats with a chance to revenge the loss to Page High School the previous year. However, the game ended in defeat, as did the following game with Ragsdale.

The Conference schedule began with a victory over Eastern Guilford in the swampy Memorial Stadium. Next the men, now a solid unit, a team, took on Reidsville, the preseason favorite. In an emotional, hard-hitting game, the Hornets won 14 to 12. This victory was followed by a 42 to 6 romp over Rockingham County.

Then came the Southeast game. The critics said the Falcons, now number 1 in the conference, were supposed to defeat Western in a close scoring game. How wrong they were, as Western rolled over Southeast 27 to 13.

The season closed out with a 53 to 13 score over Madison Mayodan and a 38 to 0 win over Northwest.

Winners of the Triad Conference, the Hornets traveled to the second in the State team of Burlington Cummings. Heavily favored, Burlington Cummings surprisingly lost by a score of 47 to 20.

The experts said that the Hornets were supposed to lose to East Wake. As in the game before, and all the games after, the Hornets fell behind by one touchdown, but they battled back to a 27 to 7 win.

The Black Hats traveled to Clinton High School, home of the Dark Horses. In a muddy field, worsened by a steady rain most of the game, the Hornets out-wallowed the Dark Horses 20 to 7.

On Friday, December 3, school assignments and tests became secondary. It was the day of the championship game. The Black Hats, Eastern North Carolina Champions, were to entertain the Spartans.

South Caldwell was closing in on the goal line when Elmo Gower intercepted a pass with 3:16 left in the game. The Hornets moved the ball and Rufus Webster scored the winning touchdown with 1:23 left in the game. The Hornets were the State 3A Champions!

Leading the Black Hats were: Head Coach Doug Henderson; Defensive Coordinator Bill Hollifield; and Coaches Eddie Flinchim, John Smith, Doug Smedburg, and Frank Wolff.

J.V.'s capture conference title

The season began when the J.V. team defeated Southern Guilford on the first of September. The following week, the team was defeated by near rival Ragsdale. After a week of rest, the Hornets won over the Panthers of Morehead, but the Rams of Reidsville handed the Hornets their second, and final loss.

On the first week of October, Northwest fell to Western. The following week, Morehead was defeated, and the Rams of Northeast lost to the might of the Hornets on the following week. Reidsville lost to the revengeful Hornets, and the final game ended in victory as Northwest was downed for the second time.

"RUN IT TO THE RIGHT." J.V. players check their play assignments.
"GO BIG 'O'!" Defensive players cheer on their offense.
FIRST DOWN! The strategy worked as the Hornets gain the needed ten.
"DOWN, SET . . ." Bryan Furr calls the signals.

It has now been four years since the Western Guilford Cross Country team has lost or even placed second in an intraconference meet.

After another undefeated season in conference meets and some wins against outside opponents such as 4-A Page, the team swept through the sectionals with a second place finish. They were one of the few teams to qualify the whole team for the state meet in Chapel Hill.

The Hornets proved to be no pushover, gaining a fourth place finish and a first place finish against all other 3-A team in the meet. The only teams that defeated the Hornets were three 4-A opponents.

Cross Country dynasty continues

A brilliant coaching job by Miss Micki Tuttle led to another rousing season for the Hornet netters in '77-78. The team captured the regular season conference title and supported an 18-2 record overall.

After an opening loss to Eastern, the team rebounded to defeat Northwest handily. After a loss to a strong Raleigh Millbrook team and a convincing victory over South Johnston, the "Black Pants" reeled off 16 straight victories over conference opponents.

Now it was time to put the old season behind and prepare for the new: The tourney! The Black Pants poured to victory over Rockingham County in the first round but once again met with minor disaster against an emotional Eastern Guilford team.

The girls then came on strong from the losers bracket to capture the tournament title. The title match lasted till 1:00 a.m.

High spirited, the team then headed into the state playoffs, but were upset by a fired-up 4-A Smith Eagles team in the first round, a sad note to end an otherwise 99.9% successful season.

Netters take to their own courts

The 1977-78 boys' varsity tennis team became competitive in conference action this year and concluded the season with an overall 8-9 record. Very strong showings against Eastern Guilford, Northwest Guilford, and Rockingham County aided in the team's final record.

Led by Lee Smith and Andy Maynard, the team seemed revitalized from past years' teams. Other strong singles players included Bryan Coble, Ty Stout, David Broach, and Steve Cooper.

The doubles teams of Lee Smith and Andy Maynard advanced to the quarterfinals of the sectional tournament before being defeated by a strong Page doubles team.

TENNIS TEAM: Margaret Prevette, Becky Meredith, Beth Brooks, Priscilla Heavener, Pat Taney, Missy Mann, Cathy Bell, Margaret Dees.

The 1977-78 Girls' varsity tennis team came on strong this season and opened new doors to future success. By posting a final season record of 3 wins and 6 losses, the team enjoyed its first year with victory in its short four year history.

This year's team could have easily been 5-4 if not for two close losses by scores of 5-4. The girls had wins over Rockingham County twice and a win over Southeast. Losses came against Morehead, Madison Mayodan, Reidsville, and against Southeast before coming back to defeat them in a rematch in the team's last match of the season. The team finished strong, winning their last two matches.

The J.V. girls' basketball team began their season with a loss to Grimsley and a loss to High Point Central. A win over Allen Jay preceded the losses to High Point Andrews (by one point), Grimsley, and Page.

The team rebounded with a victory over Randleman, but High Point Central again handed the Hornets a loss.

An improving team beat Allen Jay, and Page managed to escape with only a one point win in their second meeting.

The Hornets finished their season with a victory over High Point Andrews.

BREAK!! Hornet strategy beats the opposition's defense. . . . 5 . . . 4 . . . 3 . . . 2 . . . Missy Mann fires off a last second attempt. GOLD'S BALL! Robin Campbell prepares to set the ball in play.

"Wetbacks" show improvement

Despite having two different coaches, practicing at 6:30 in the morning and the numbers participating in the swim team this year, the team is finally beginning to take hold at Western.

This year the team had two coaches. First semester the team was coached by Sally Bill and second semester by Lane Anderson.

Every morning at 6:30, the team and coaches would faithfully arrive at Westover Swim and Tennis Club to practice individual workouts to the music of Elvis Presley.

Neither the boys nor the girls had an overwhelming season. The girls managed to make it to the consolation finals in the state meet at Grimsley Pool. For many on the team, it was the first state meet they had ever attended.

The team this year had many underclassmen who undoubtedly will appear again next year to continue the "wetback" tradition.

Despite many hours of hard work, the 1978 Wrestling team had an extremely disappointing season. Although the team did not win any of their matches this year, next year is bound to be better, since many of the underclassmen are coming back.

As one wrestler remarked, "Wait until next year!"

The Varsity boys' basketball team had a dismal season this year. Despite high hopes and morale, the team finished with a poor record.

The season began when the team ventured to newly formed Rockingham County, which ended in a 57 to 74 defeat. Fate seemed to be against the Hornets as they were again defeated in an away game at Ragsdale 56 to 59, and the first home game, also against Ragsdale, 56 to 64.

The first victory came when the Hornets defeated Northeast Guilford by a score of 52 to 48 on Viking court. The newly victorious team soon met defeat at the hands of Reidsvile by a score of 71 to 57 on home turf. The team was entertained by 4-A Greensboro Page, a venture which ended in a 70 to 55 loss for the Hornets of Western.

From December 27th through the 31st, Western participated in the Christmas Invatational Tournament held at near-by Rockingham Community College. The first game pitted the Hornets against the Cougars of Rockingham County. Out to avenge the earlier loss, the Hornets blew out Rockingham by a score of 77 to 58. The second game proved to be not so adventurous as the followers saw their team defeated by Reidsville 54 to 69. On the final day, the Western team again met defeat as Bartlett-Yancy squeaked by 63 to 60.

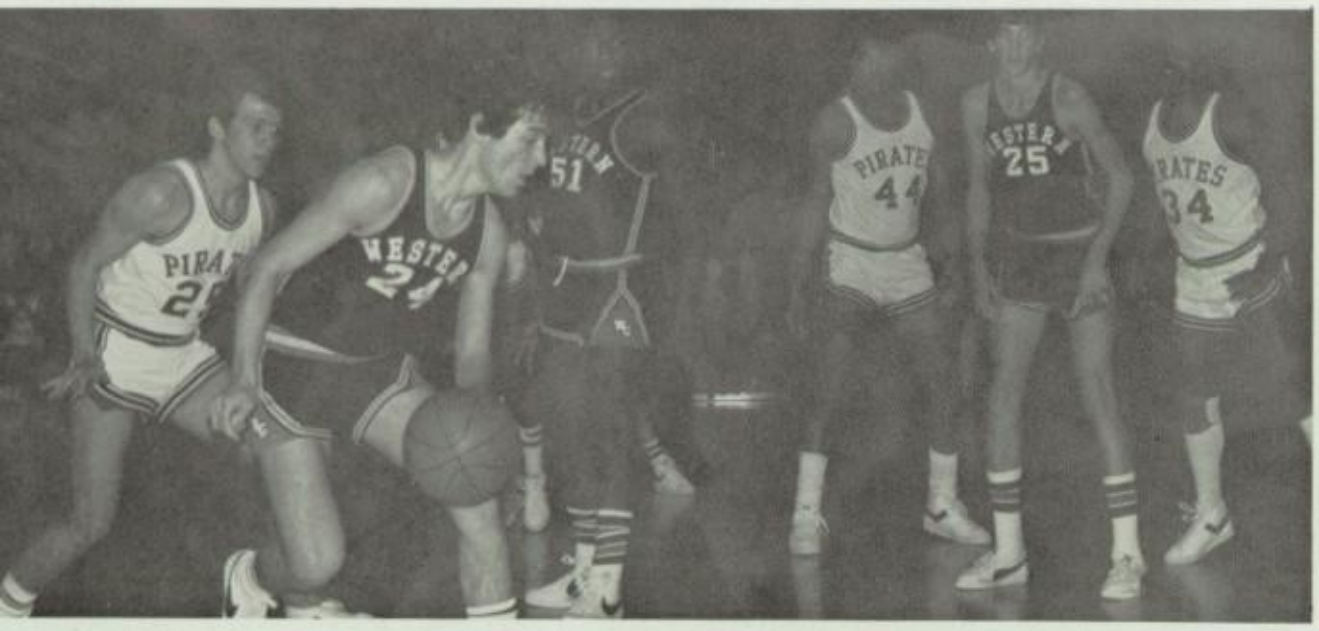
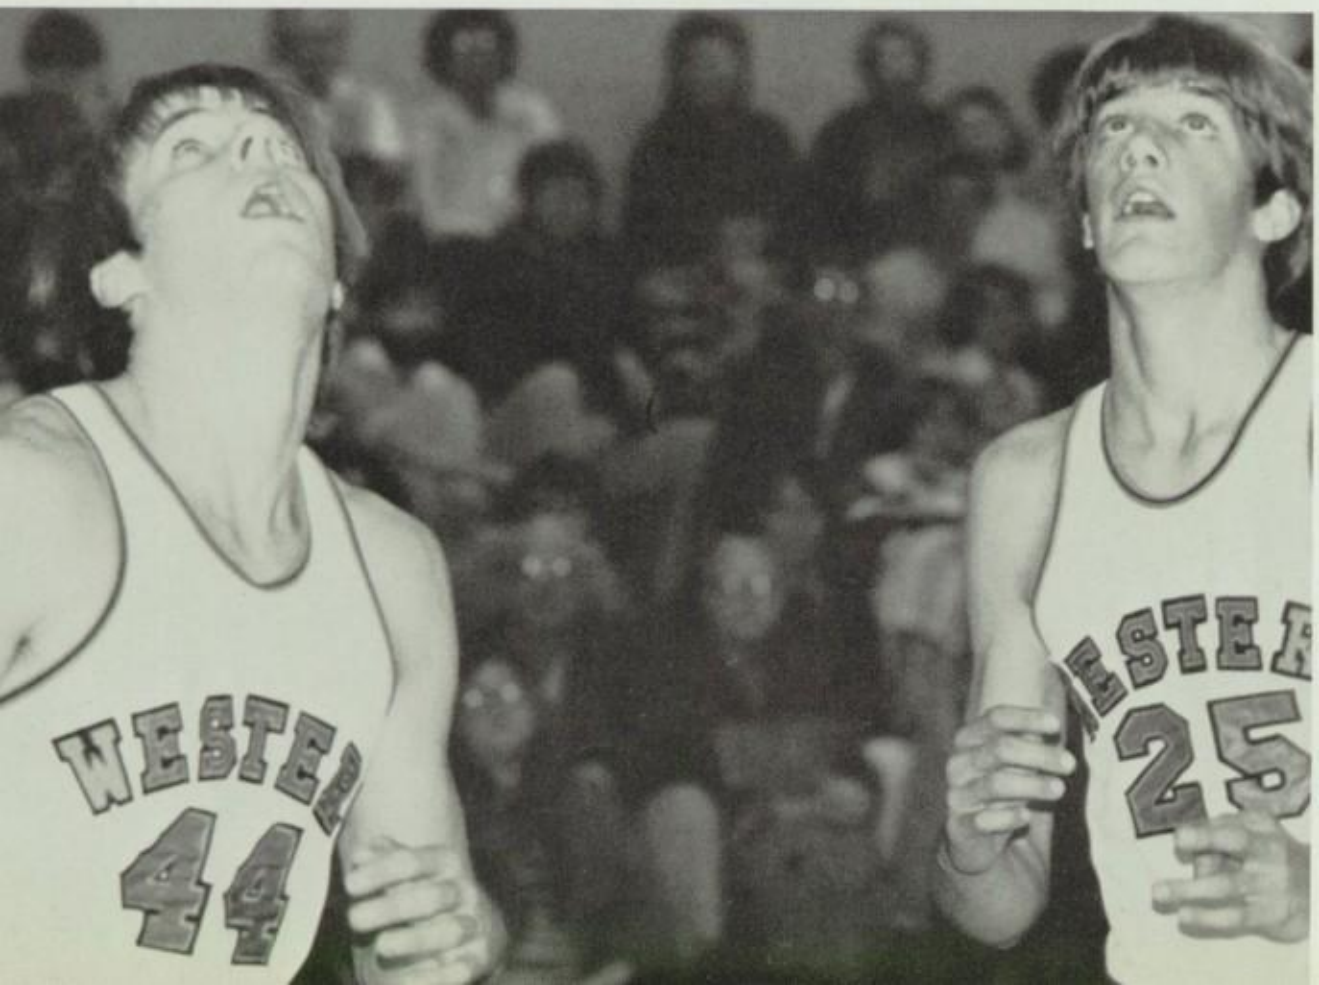
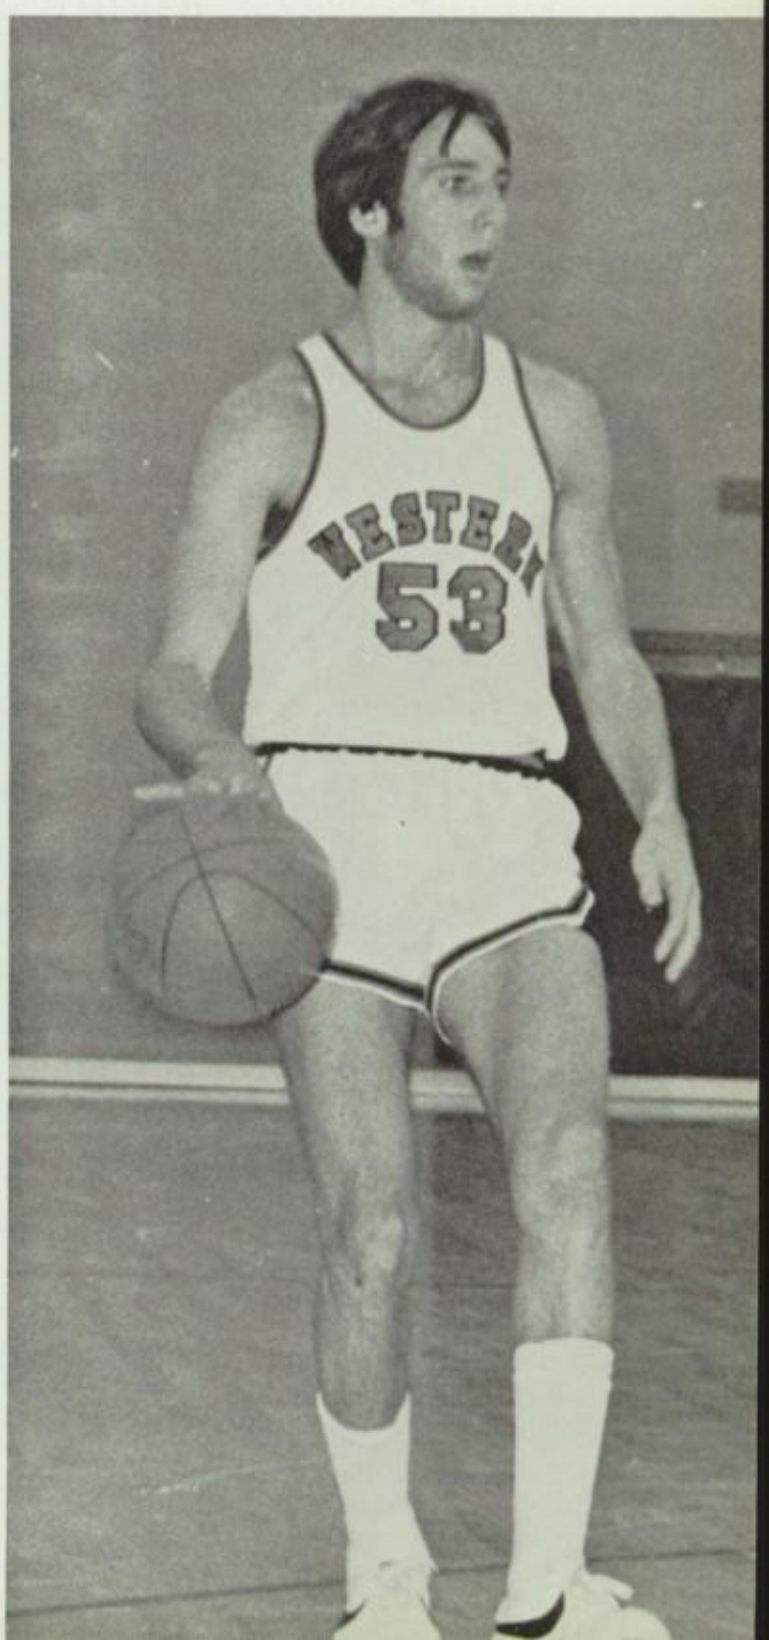
Boys' Varsity Basketball finishes 9-15







Conference play, Madison-Mayodan beat Western at home, 52 to 39. Northwest used their home court advantage as they sneaked by with a final of 52 to 51. Morehead defeated the Hornets at Morehead, and Northeast followed suit as they beat the Hornets 65 to 60. The Hornets ventured to Southeast, where they handed a 61 to 57 defeat to the team.

It would be three straight defeats before the Hornets would meet victory again. First, Rockingham won 71 to 64; then Reidsville won with the final score being 54 to 51; and finally the power of Page held off any attempt with a 72 to 60 defeat.

When the Hornets finally won, it was over cross-county rival Eastern, beating them 67 to 61. Madison-Mayodan defeated the Hornets 60 to 50 at Madison, but the team rebounded to win 59 to 53 over Northwest. The team finished their season with a loss to Southeast 64 to 60, and a double loss to Morehead, 38 to 37 and 65 to 46.

After season play was over, it was found that Morehead had an ineligible player. This dicovery boosted the final season record to 9 wins and 15 losses.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

This year's Girls Varsity Basketball team failed to live up to earlier season expectations. After five strong wins early they fell into a mid-season slump and seemed never to be able to pull it back together and recover.

The season began with a close win over newly consolidated Rockingham County followed by two close ones against Ragsdale 42-39 and 47-44. Two significant victories, Northeast and Reidsville, were to follow, both 11-point margins.

Then the team began to falter. A stretch of eight games followed and the team could muster no better than a .500 record. This stretch began with a 14-point loss to league-leading Eastern. The netters then salvaged a 12-point decision over Page in the next game before losing two straight to a strong Madison-Mayodan team by 13 and a darkhorse Northwest Viking team by 12.

The team then seemed to gain a little confidence in the next two games, a 10 point victory over Morehead and then a convincing 16 point defeat of the Northeast Rams 50- 34. However, another loss followed against Southeast 47-40. Things seemed to be up and down for the season at this time and another lopsided win over a weak Rockingham County seemed proof of this see-saw rhythm.

But this rhythm, and the team as a whole, seemed to fall apart at this point by losing their next seven games in a row. In order, the losses were 62-45 to Reidsville; 49-44 to a non-conference Page team; 58-33, a rather lopsided loss, to a now league commander Eastern team; 42-37 to Madison-Mayodan; a one point heartbreaker in the final seconds to Northeast; another one point loss to Southeast in a sloppy, low-scoring affair which saw Southeast come from behind in the final quarter to capture the game; and finally, a two-point loss to the Morehead Panthers.

Low spirits would seem to have been in the picture for the team at this point, but this problem did not arise. The team entered its conference tournament seemingly revitalized and swept through the first round defeating Southeast 32-30, thus avenging the last season one point loss.

More damage was done to another heavily favored conference team when the Northeast Vikings fell convincingly 44-37.

This thrust the team into the championship game against an old and familar foe, the Eastern Guilford Wildcats, led by all-American 3-team member Teresa Holt. The Eastern team proved just too powerful for the Hornet team and handily defeated the team by a 20 point margin at 47-27, a game which was decided in the first quarter when Eastern gained the early momentum and jumped to a 21-0 advantage before the Hornets could achieve a single point.

The season ended on a sad note but the team will next year return three starters to lead the team into another season of conference and post season ·varring.

A strong end for a fair season.

The 1977-78 9th Grade basketball team was a pleasant surprise this year as the highly talented group of Freshmen concluded their season with a 13-0, undefeated season.

Led by Kevin Hanner a point guard and Ken Clunan at strong Forward, the team proved just too powerful for the opposition.

The team was just all-round strong with Randy McGraw at the other guard position, Billy Oden at Small forward, and David Berry at center. The starting five was also complimented by a talented bench some of whose standouts included Rennie Calton, Mike Fogleman, and Mark Gorham.

This year's team also pleasantly surprised Varsity Basketball coach Allen Jones who is looking forward to coaching these freshmen students as sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

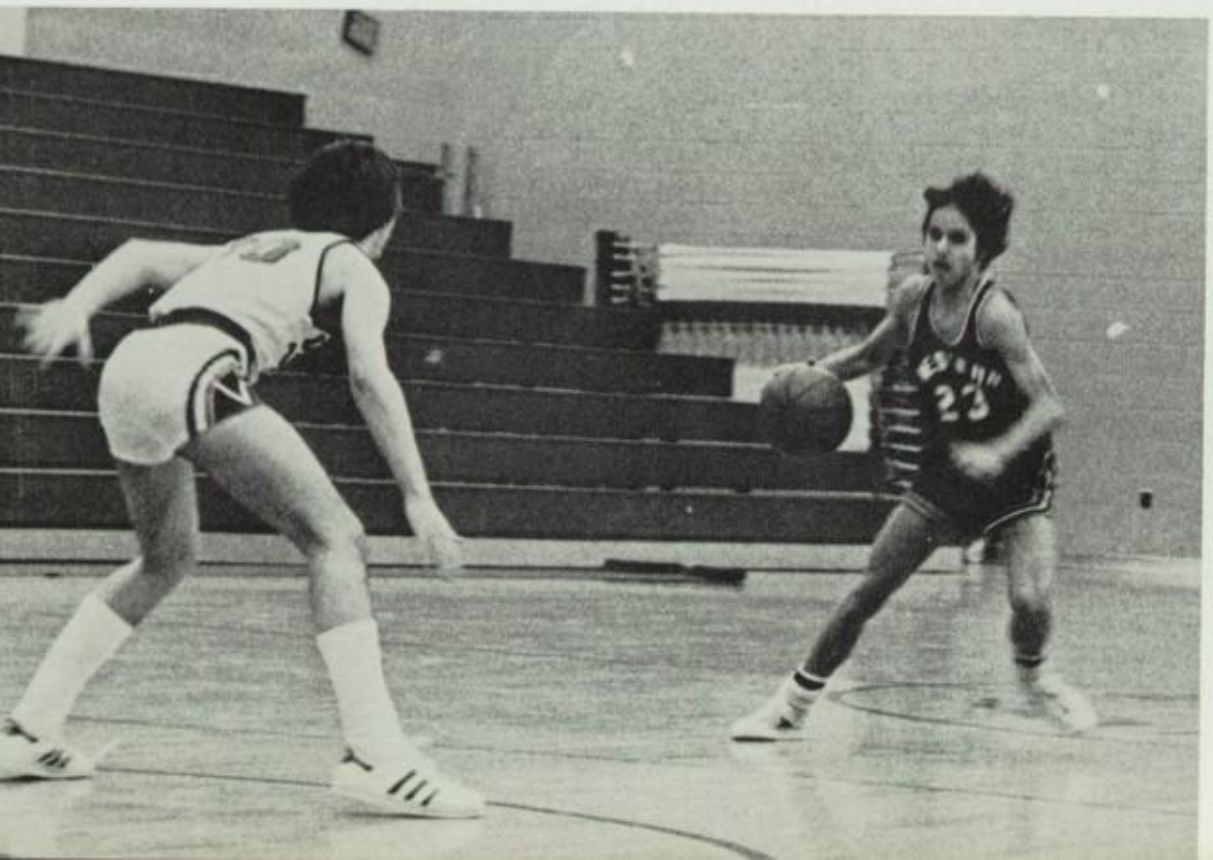
Inexperience hinders J.V.'s



The 1977-78 J.V. Basketball team returned to the courts this year minus some of their stalwarts from last year's productive team.

Most of the starters this year were first year starters since last year's J.V. freshmen went varsity for their sophomore seasons. A strong top five men held the team together and kept most of the games close, but the team was just too inexperienced to make the season very productive.

Ty Stout led the team at the point position and held them together in clutch situations. David Bartenfield, Neil Rowland, and Reggie Jones along with Rickey Lanier were also starters in a team which was composed of almost entirely sophomores with only a few juniors for the added experience factor.

Hard work and dedication payed off for the 1977-78 varsity golf team with a successful season.

One of the major success stories in Western Guilford history, Tom Knox, finished an eventful high school career with a state low medalist crown.Tom will head to Wake Forest on full scholarship to further his education and probably his career.

The team went through the season as a conference powerhouse and took the title by forty strokes over their nearest competitior. They went on to the sectionals and came away with a fourth place finish. This qualified the team for the state tournament to be held at the distinguished Finley Golf Course in Chapel Hill. The team fared well although it was not one of their best efforts of the season. They finished in sixth place.

A personal triumph plus a team success story made for an exciting year for the clubbers and with returning lettermen such as Greg Cox, Richard Kincaid, and Curtis Adams, a strong team will hit the course next spring.

The 1977-78 girl's softball team started off the yeason with two new things in their favvor. They had a new coach and brand new uniforms. Coach Doug Smedburg, with the help of Brian Bisset, took on the job of coaching a very young team with many talented and dedicated girls. New uniforms came almost halfway through the season and were an incentive to everyone to try harder.

The team's highest compliment came in the season's finale when a veteran umpire called the team "the most disciplined he had seen all season."

Although there were ten seniors leaving, the team was looking forward to coming back next year.

Baseball teams come out on top

The varsity baseball team finished the season with an overall record of 11-9 and they placed 3rd on conference play. Charlie Waynick led the team with four homeruns, twenty-five RBI's, and a batting average of .370.

Some of the promising returnees include: Don Inman, pitcher; Mike Everett, first baseman; Charlie Waynick, centerfielder; Benny Midkiff, catcher; and Gary James, pitcher.

The J.V. baseball team also managed to come out on top of the season with an overall record of 8-6.

Boys' track — off and running

In the cold, windy, rainy, days of February, a group of boys, each a specialist in his field, met to combine their skills and form a team. They endured the weather and the loneliness and pain of practice to increase their endurance, speed, distance or height in their events.

The first test began early in March. Still in the cold weather, the team managed to overcome the opposition and walk away with a victory.

Practice continued between meets, weather permitting. The practice paid off with the Hornets taking first place in all but one meet and finishing fourth in the Forsyth Relays.

In March, several outstanding athletes ventured to Knoxville, Tennessee, for the Volunteer Classic.

Then, on May 4, the Hornets blew out the other teams and captured the conference title with a score nearly three times as much as the second place team.

Next, for those who qualified, was the State Sectional Meet, where the team finished second to Dudley.

Those who qualified then went to East Mecklenberg to the State Regionals, where the team placed fifth.

To round out a great season, Western sent Carl Ivarsson and Glenn Morris to State Finals.

Boys' Track team captures conference title.

Girls put together a winning season

WE'RE NO. 1! The Boys Track Team celebrates their conference championship rout.
THE FLOP! Mark Bryant demonstrates the Fosbury Flop.
RUNNERS SET ... GO! Chuck Doughton and Roland Maddrey pull out to set the pace in the 880 run.
STRAIN! 880 relay team loosens up on the infield.
KICK! Cheryl Cato kicks out of the blocks to start the 880 relay.
STAMINA! Sue Owens was a stalwart all year in the distance runs.
ONE MORE LAP! Ellen Wall was exceptional in the two mile all year.

The 1977-78 Girls' Varsity Track team came into the season on the verge of a letdown. Confidence was high, but last year's senior stalwarts were gone. However, held together by some sophomore leadership in Wendy Ray and Sue Owens, the team came away with a third place conference showing and a sectional title.

During the course of the season, the team suffered losses but were never out of any meet.

In the sectional meet held at Dudley, a fired-up team was able to break away for the victory. On the last event of the day, the mile relay team had to gain a fourth place finish to receive the two points needed to solidify the victory. They did and defeated the Dudley Panthers by one point.

After the sectional came the Regional in which Sue Owens captured two first places in the mile and 880 runs to lead the team to a second place finish behind a first place tie.

The City-County followed with a fourth place finish behind Dudley, Grimsley, and Eastern Guilford.

Only two members of the team were able to qualify for the state meet, Wendy Ray and Sue Owens. Wendy took second place in the high jump and Sue took second and third places in the mile and 880 respectively.

WE'RE THE BEST! Girls celebrate sectional title, a one point victory over Dudley. NOW! Wendy Ray accepts the baton handoff from Margaret Shepard. SPRING! Wendy Ray attempts 5'0" in a downpour at the sectional meet. STRUT! Marcie Gilmer strains to make up time on Dudley's pace in the mile relay. UMPH! Margaret Shepard drives over the hurdles in her 110 heat.

Girls' Track: Young but established

Athletes, proud parents and coaches gathered for the tenth annual awards banquet on May 24 to celegrate the conclusion of another great season.

The highlight of the year was the state championship football team, but many other teams were also winners. Girls' Track won the sectional title, and conference championships were acquired by the volleyball, football, cross country, golf, and boys' track teams.

Individual awards included the following:

Cross Country: Most Valuable — Carl Ivarsson.
Most Improved — Keith Tuck.
Girls' Tennis: Most Valuable — Priscilla Heavner.

OH MY GOSH! Cathy Wilhout leads Civinette I meeting during a hurried homeroom meeting.

Civinettes: a sweetheart of a club

Civinettes I kept very busy this year. To start it off they had a Teacher Appreciation Day, with each of the teachers receiving an apple.

The traditional Sweetheart Pageant, which was held on February 11, 1978, turned out to be a big success considering that there were several changes made.

This year Civinettes #2 was a young club with only seven members from last year plus eighteen freshman and sophomore girls newly elected into the club.

On October 29, 1977, the club sponsored a booth at the Greensboro Youth Council Halloween Flea Market. Antiques were donated which made the sales profitable.

Beta Club membership exceeds 100

A mysterious tap in the dark night would usually be scary but on January 25, it was an honor for the fifty-five students who were inducted into the Senior Beta Club in a candle-light ceremony.

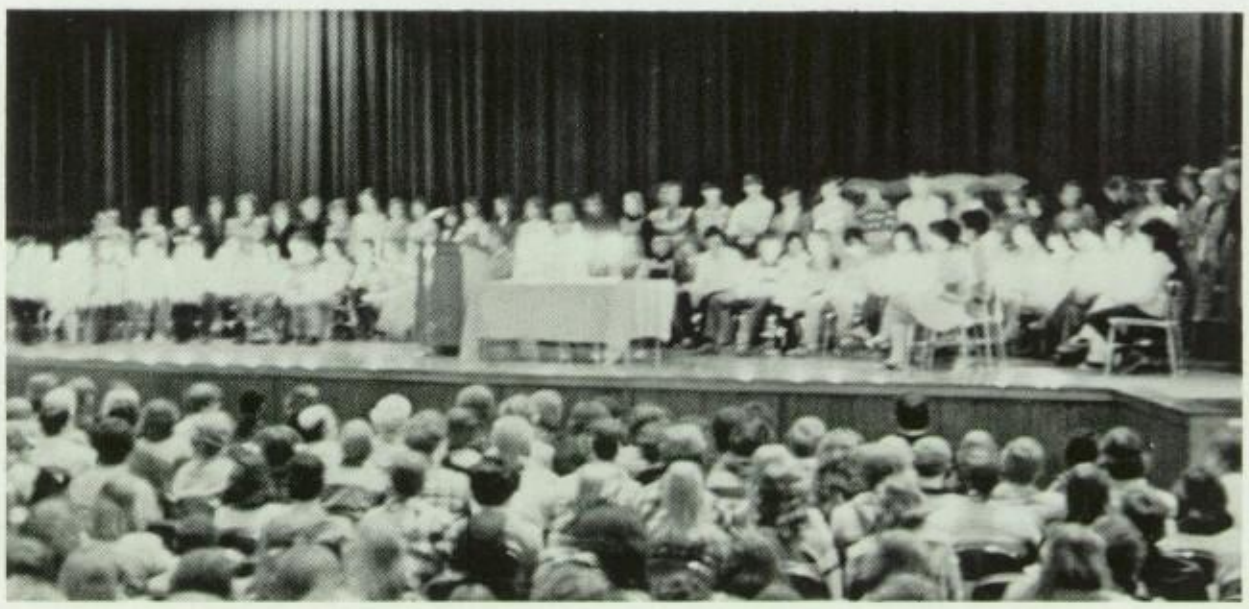
The induction swelled the membership to 125, making the Beta Club the school's largest. The club consists of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have achieved a 3.2 average and who maintain a 3.0 average.

In the fall, Western's club hosted the district convention. Beth Graybeal was elected district vice-president, Mary Maddrey as secretary, and Western's majorettes walked away with top talent honors.

A major project sponsored by the Beta Club this year was a school wide paper drive February 10. Beta members collected the papers and took them to a recycling plant.

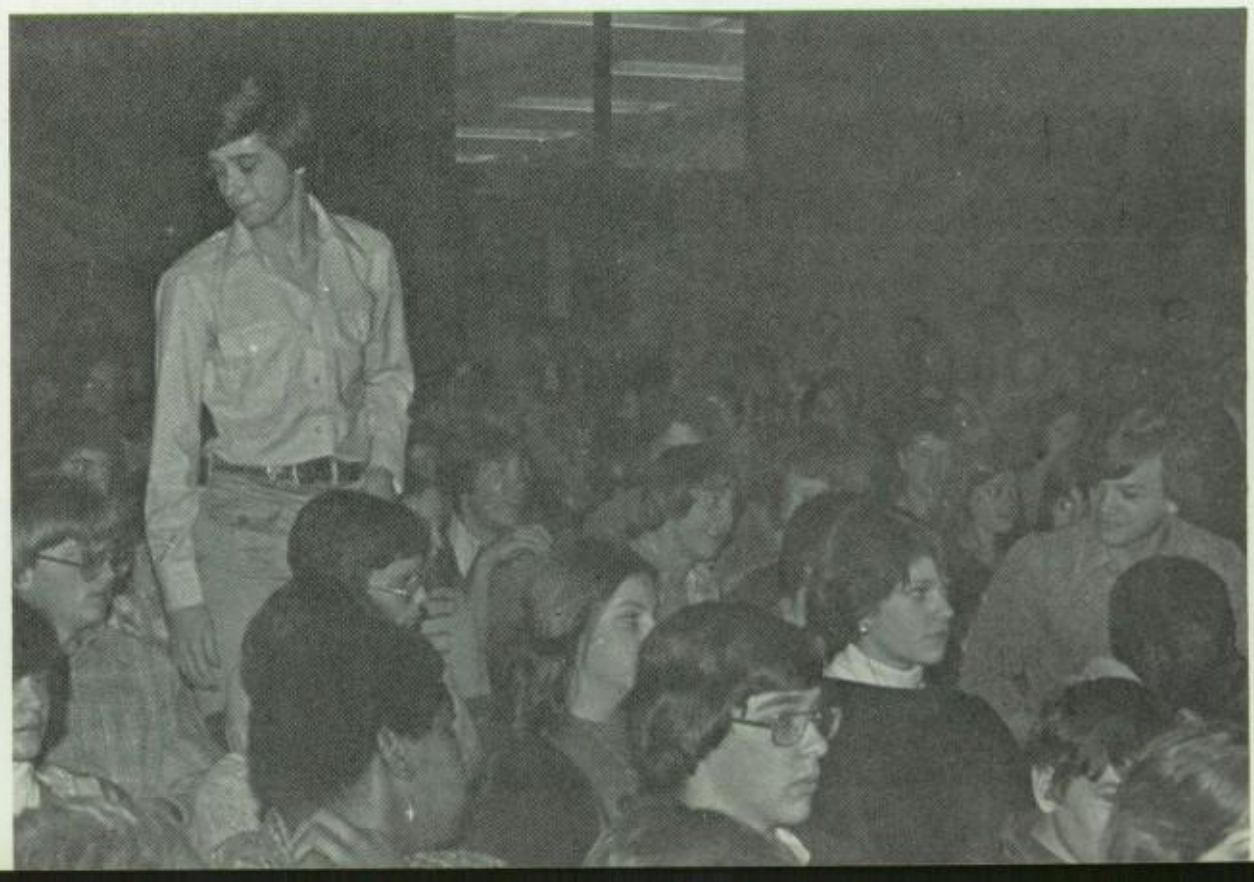
The weekend of April 14-16 was a topic of many of the Beta Club's monthly meetings as a large portion of the membership planned to attend the State Beta Convention in Raleigh.

Club officers for '77-'78 were: Becky Meredith, president; Amy McGuire, vice-president; Debbie McMahan, secretary; Carolyn Kearns, treasurer.

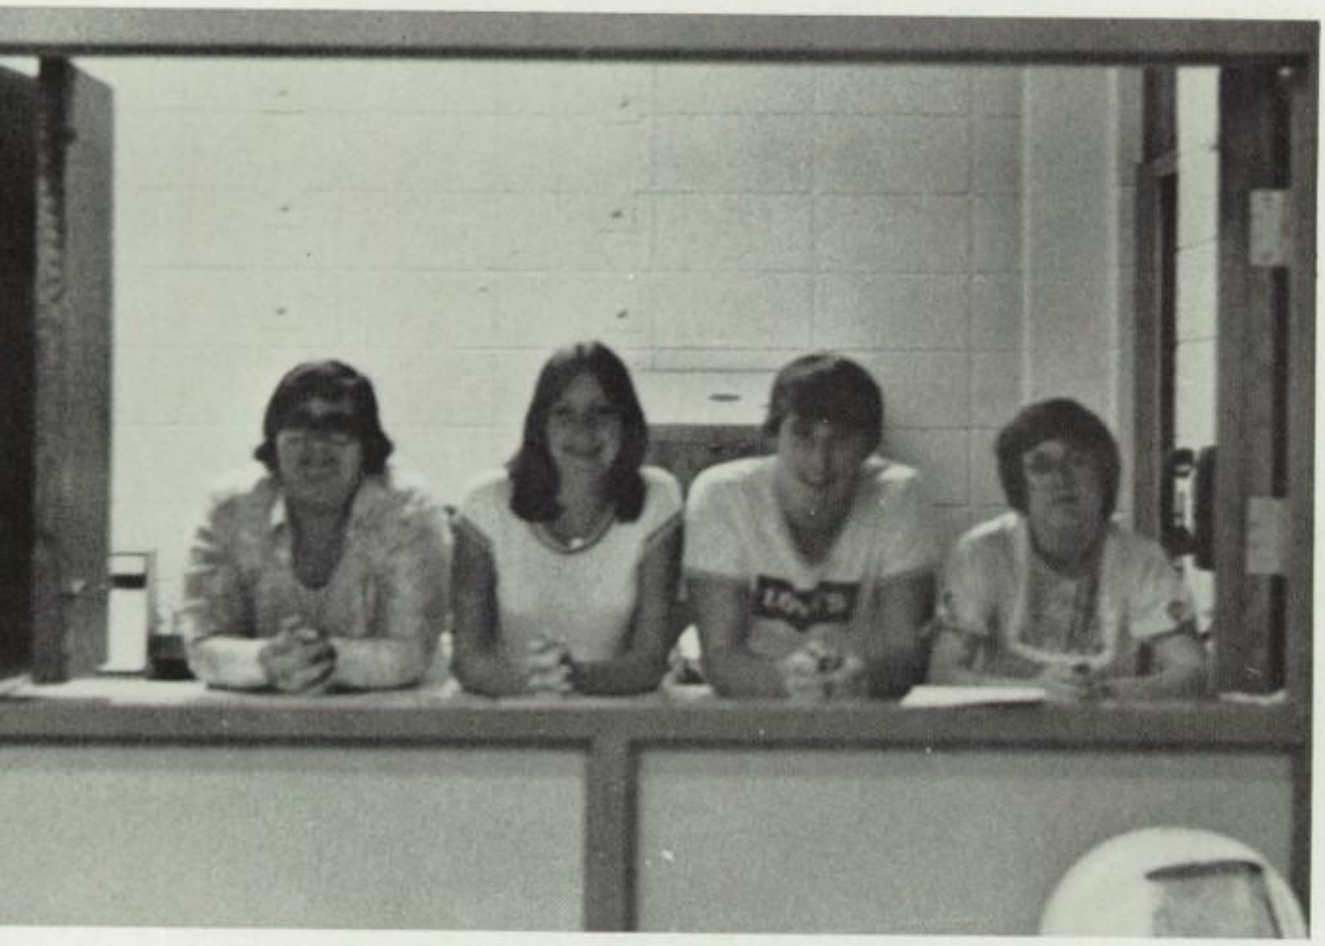


OUCH! THAT'S HOT! The inductees into the Senior Beta Club sit on stage holding lighted candles.

EXCUSE ME! Bobby Gordon taps Michael Marx, an inductee into the Senior Beta Club.



Ninth graders have own honor club



WHAT HAVE WE DONE THIS TIME? Leanne Jessup, Cheryl MacDonald, Ken Clunan, and Susan Hawley were inducted into the Beta Club April 13.

The Junior Beta Club recognizes freshmen who make A's and B's and maintain good conduct.

Four students achieved this after a semester at Western and were added to the club's membership. They were: Ken Clunan, Susan Hawley, Leanne Jessup, and Cheryl McDonald.

The club officers were: Sandy Vuncannon, president; Randy McGraw, secretary; and Mark Gorham, treasurer. Miss Olivia Hurd was the faculty advisor.

Student leaders form Council

The council serves as a mediator between the students and the faculty. They also relay information from organizations about activities in which high school students can participate.

The club is also responsible for counting the votes from each class for their Homecoming representatives.

The Council meetings enable the clubs to discuss concerns or projects of their club or class.

To begin the year, the Council gave senior citizens free passes to all football games.

After a winning season, they sold license plates bragging about being state AAA champs for $2 each.

Their main project was buying a $1900 ID card machine and making ID cards for the students for $1.50 each.

In this year of exchanges, the Student Council hosted Rockingham County so that they could see how our school was run and formulate a system of their own.

st row — Rayette McFaydan, Lee Nixon, Priscilla Heavner, David Cannell. 2nd row — Cheryl Pearman, Page Stewart, Vann Holden, Sandy Duncan, Donna Thomas, Hank McNeely, Regina Kent, Mary Francis Best, Keith Leinbach, Carrie Linen. 3rd row — Mary Evans, Betsy Hill, Craig Pearman, Mark Messick, Bobby Wilhoit, Chris Wilhoit, Bill Whitley, Randy McGraw, Mark Brooks, Vonn Mims, Gayle Moore. 4th row — Drew Wade, Cindy Slatton, Glenn Morris, Lisa Ramos, Terry Mitchell, Todd Rumsey, Jennifer Hill, Karen Davis, Ellen Hair, Ginny Miller, Leslie Hill, Angie Carter.

The French Club's major project was the Miss Christmas Seal Pageant. Donna Thomas, the club's choice, was the winner for Western Guilford. All proceeds from this success went as a donation to the Piedmont Lung Association.

First row: Steve Stum, Ted LeJeune, Leslie Holmes, Donna Thomas, Julie Renfrow, Machalle Walters, Maria Gearhart, Tony Dudley, Denise Johnson. Second row: Greg Plaster, Sheryl Ramsey, Dianna Wilson, Chuck Doughton, Anna Barett, Bill Cudworth, Wendy Holmes, Margie Fary, Teresa Sapp. Third row: Bobby Gordon, Bryan Furr, Jerry Greene, Greg Cox, Gary Crawford, Hank McNeely, Ellen Helzer, Figen Ciloglu, Betty Shelton, Pam Crawford.

Jr. Jaycettes combine service and fun

Following in the footsteps of last year's club, the Junior Jaycettes continued to rise in fame. One no longer hears of the Haunted House, the GGO and the Easter Egg Hunt without immediately thinking about the Jr. Jaycettes.

Led by an enthusiastic group of dedicated officers, Allison Callicot, Donna Thomas, Margie Livesay, Deborah Patat, Cynthia Cummings, Von Mims, Karen Eckleman, and Brenda Johnson, the Jr. Jaycettes exuberantly carried out projects within the school. These activities included decorating the stadium for a Varsity and Jr. Varsity football game and conducting teacher appreciation week.

One of the most successful projects this year was the community Easter Egg Hunt which was held on March 24 at the school. Approximately 100 children attended and hunted for over 2,000 eggs as parents gathered to watch.

As another year ended, service and fun still prevailed as trademarks of an active Junior Jaycettes club.

1st row: Karen Eckleman, Brenda Johnson, Deborah Patat, Donna Thomas, Margie Livesay, Pam Shoemaker, Machelle Walters. 2nd row: Beth Graybeal, Angie Hendren, Judy Goins, Ginny Miller, Lorraine Wright, Von Mims, Gail Gorham, Ruth Jennings, Julie Renfrow, Leslie Holmes. 3rd row: Donna Strickland, Jackie Sharpe, Diane Brzenzinski, Tina Gibbs, Nona Michaux, Faye Myrik, Marcie Gilmer, Kim Kitchin, Kathy Earl, Kathy Hanlon, Terrie Dance, Patricia Keller.

AND THEY'RE OFF! Kids from all over the community showed up for the annual Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Jr. Jaycettes.

Fuller, K. Hayden, M. Hudspeth, K. Gaither, D. Sillman, A. Carter, C. Coates, S. Young, E. Yow, G. Kalogorus, and sponsor Mr. Jones.

This year's ICT Vica Club was active in many areas of the school. On November 14 the club was responsible for the annual donkey basketball game. Students thoroughly enjoyed watching teachers Mr. Wolff, Mr. Smedburg, and Mr. Smith as they showed their expertise both on their beasts and on the floor. The club also purchased many magazines for the school as a whole.

Vica Electronics keeps school together

If there was anything that needed to be fixed, repaired, setup, or replaced, Vica Electronics was on the spot.

All students who take Electronics are automatically members, but only six paid dues.

Left — Right: Gordon Elliot, Mike Nicholson, Sam Harper, Jeff Davidson, Mark Weisner, Anthony Jeffries, Steve Patton, Scott Rhodes, Doug Hartsook, Kip Williams, Frazier Hanover, Eddie Waynick, Victor Morgan, Tim Bondurant, Chris Wilhoit.

The Vica Drafting Classes were divided into three years.

In the first year basic skills such as learning how to use the equipment and the designing and building of furniture are stressed.

Second year students start designing and building complete models of houses. Thirteen drawings a year are required, each taking two and a half to three weeks to complete.

There were only three students in third year drafting, Greg Hardy, David Patton, and Gordon Elliot. During the year they did different projects which are taken to the State Fair.

The drafting teacher, Mr. Hudspeth, sponsored the club. Officers were: David Patton, president; Curtis Adams, vice president; Kathy Hanlon, secretary; Terry Sowers, treasurer; Michael Marx, Parliamenterian; Gordon Elliot, Editor.

Busdriving, full of many rewards

Driving a bus proved, as always, a rewarding experience. For starters, bus drivers were rewarded with a grand total of $2.47 cents an hour for the privilege of carting 75 screaming kids to and from school.

"What did they do to deserve this?" one asks. The answer is quite simple. They sat through two days of rigorous classroom work and hours behind the wheel training for a man who demanded perfection, and rightly so.

For driving a bus is a tremendous responsibility and privilege. It's that certain unexplainable pride, the feeling of accomplishment that is its own reward.

Guiding bus drivers through still yet another year was Mr. Carroll.

The Science Club informs students

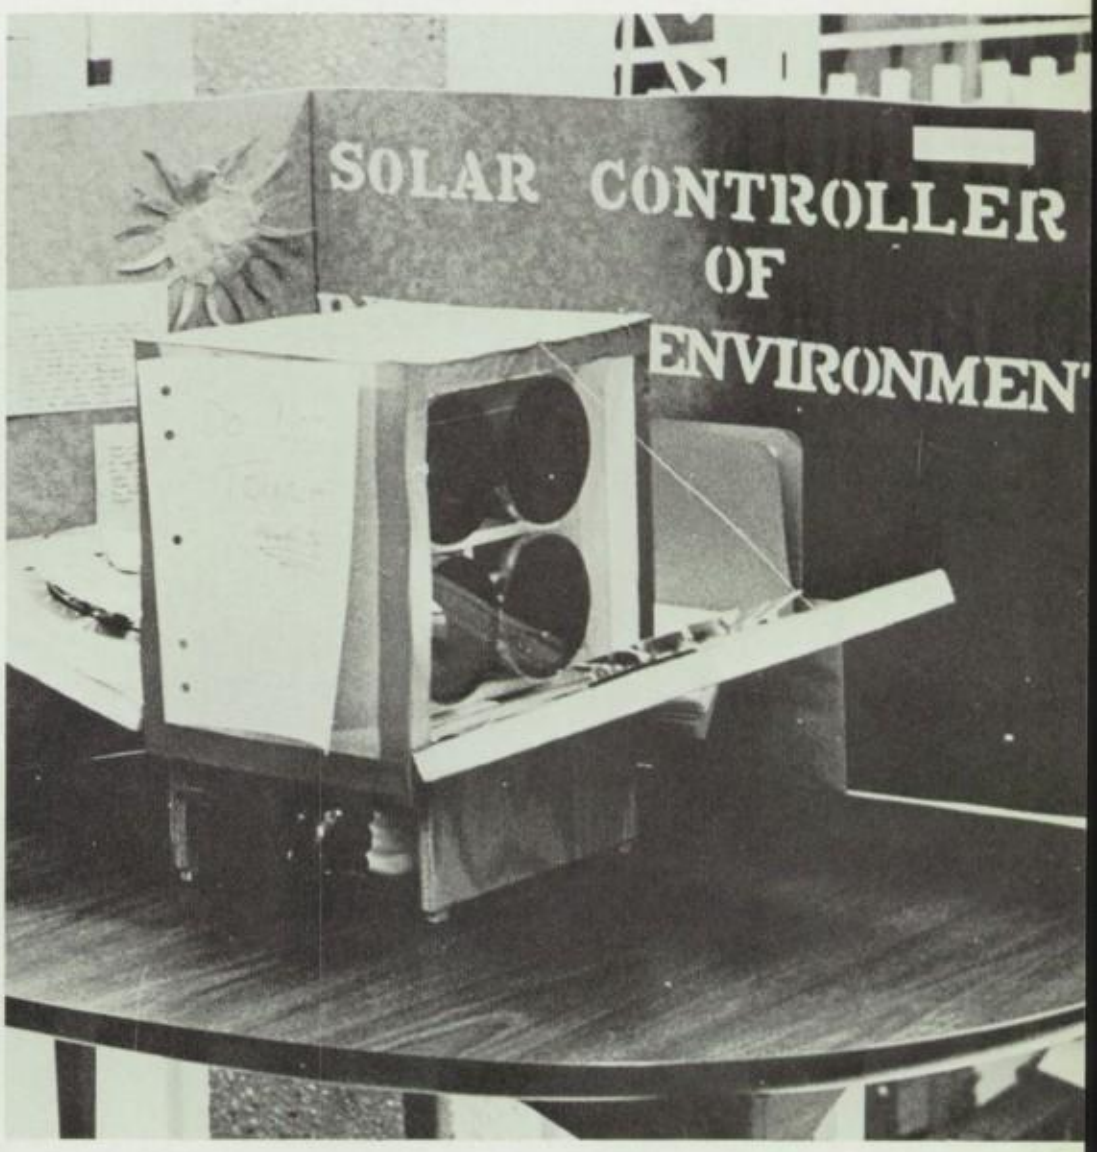
1st row — Felicia Dearmon, Robert Bowman, Alisa Stone, Carolyn Kearns, Lisa Ramos, Emily Smith, Amy McGuire. 2nd row — Daryl Ridge, Ted LeJeune, Teresa Sapp, Lenny Holmes, Lynn Brackin, Aprill Rhodes, Darlene Strickland, Mr. Johnson. 3rd row — John Blackwood, Craig Pearman, Lee Nixon, Rayette McFayden, Figen Ciloglu, Laura Huffman, Judy Jeffcoat, Joann Parks, Ellen Wall. 4th row — Kathy Ridge, Vanessa Dawson, Amy Carroll, Karen Marbert, Susan Hardison, Kim Stokely, Joyce Pitts, Hank MMcNeely.

The Science Club once again proved to be one of Western's most active clubs despite a lack of meetings. This year's club became incorporated and joined the North Carolina Student Academy of Science, a statewide organization.

Steered in the right direction by president Lynn Brackin, vice president Kathy Ridge, secretary Vannesa Dawson, and sponser Mr. Johnson, the club organized many activities.

Throughout Science Week, members informed students of the latest developments in the world of science through minifacts each morning. Responsible for the organization of the Science Fair, it was the members who made sure that judges were acquired and that everything ran smoothly.

DID YOU KNOW? Debbie McMahan awakens students with science mini-fact.



ON DISPLAY! Science projects create interest throughout the school.

Future Secretaries have active year

Future Secretaries of America held monthly meetings, visited several corporations, and had a successful money raising project.

The club had two new sponsors this year, Mrs. Little and Mrs. Holtom. With the help of these two, FSA was not only more active but also more organized this year.

At the beginning of the year they chose Debbie MacMahan as president; Jennifer Hill as vice president; Ruth Jennings as Corresponding Secretary; Joy Britt as recording secretary; and Kathy Ridge as treasurer.

Meetings, which consisted of supper, business meeting, and then special presentations put on by the FSA representatives, were scheduled every third Wednesday in each month. However, several other gatherings were called when FSA was invited to the Duke Power Christmas show, Secretary workshop at Holiday Inn, and J.P. Stevens.

This year members chose to sell stationary as a money-raising project. It was suggested that the money from the sale be used for a plaque acknowledging outstanding FSA students.

Health Careers adopts new name

LOLLIPOPS FOR SALE! Darrin Ficke and Matthew Faulkner are surrounded by students on Lollipop Day.

Many changes came over Western Guilford this year, one of which was the Health Careers Club changing its name to HOSA for Health Occupations Students of America.

HOSA sponsored a Lollipop Sale as a fund raising project. They also collected funds for the American Cancer Society by "selling" mice for 51¢ each. In May, the club sponsored a bloodmobile held at the school. Students at least seventeen years old could roll up their sleeves and donate some of their own blood to help others who may have needed it.

The club officers for the 1978 school year were: Darrin Ficke, president; David Grant, vice- president; Faye Myrick, president-elect; Kathy Ridge, secretary; Karen Marbert, treasurer.

More than a class — Family Living Club

The Family Life Club consisted of all students participating in any of the child development, home ec, inter- relations, or home decorating classes. As sponsor and teacher, Mrs. Siler could relate information in her classes so that few meetings were necessary.

The club helped out at PTO and other special meetings by providing snacks and a baby sitting service.

Follow through! Rick Peterson profects his techniques.

Bowling team takes first place!

The Bowling Club was composed of seven teams, each meeting every Tuesday at Friendly Lanes.

The club will receive trophies at the end of the year. Five of the members entered the Greensboro City Tournament and took first place in their division.

Student Union honors Black History week

The Student Union undertook one big project for the 1977-78 Academic Year, which was the recognition of Black History Month. In doing this, Student Union presented a series of "mini-facts" on the morning announcements about Black Americans famous in the catagories of sports, religion, business, politics, and entertainment. A bulletin board was constructed depicting the characters from author Alex Haley's ROOTS. As the climax of the week's activities, the Alpha Kappa Sorority from Bennett College presented a variety program dealing with Black Works of Art through poetry, songs, dance and sketches.

Aw, come on! Calvin Miller and Katrina Williams express varied reactions about Black History bulletin board.

Hunt Club aims at target

Front-Back: Ronnie Shirley, David Cannell, Mark Harris, Fred Black, Vann Stout, Steve Stumm, David Ferguson, Andy Maynard, Bill Loftin.

Lights, Camera, Action — The movie club takes its place

The movie club was a new organization of about twenty interested students. The club was started by David Messick around Christmas when Mrs. Edwards agreed to be sponsor.

The club made one movie about Martians invading Western Guilford and kidnapping Mr. Walters. Although they were disappointed in the results of their first film, the members applied their knowledge in filming various homerooms.

Drama classes get into the act

Plagued with casting problems, this year's drama class managed an active year despite rising complications. Consisting of fifth and sixth periods, the drama classes first production was an original play conceived by the students themselves. Performed near Christmas, "Christmas at Crooked Creek School," proved to be a humorous play and contributed greatly to instilling the Christmas spirit in all students.

In the classroom, students studied the works of some of the world's great playwrights and also performed oral interpretations for one another. Other performances by the drama department included various scenes from some of Shakespeare's finest plays.

WHILE VISIONS OF SUGAR PLUMS ... Kim Bailey, Nancy Boerma, Jane Reynolds, and Charles Baldwin perform radiantly in the Christmas play.

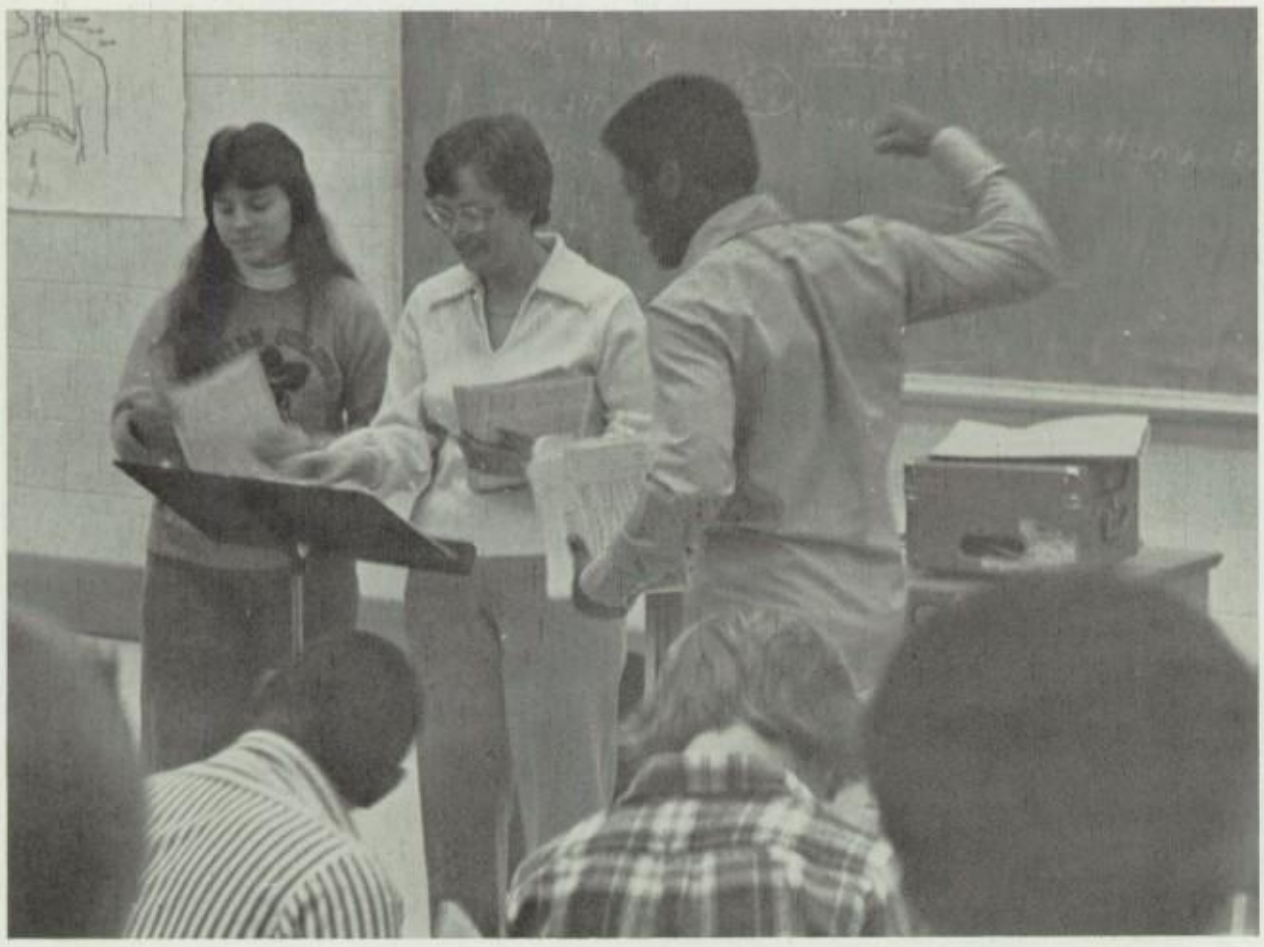
COMIC RELIEF'. Charles Baldwin and Rufus Webster stage a scene from THE MERCHANT OF VENICE.



JAM. Arthur Gilmore shows enthusiasm with Mrs. Hawks and Tony Demperio.

This year for the first time in the history of Western Guilford High School, the Mixed Chorus took three ratings of Superior in the Choral Contest in Burlington. Mrs. Hawks was very proud of the group's performance and the seniors rejoiced in ending their singing on a happy note.

Also this year the members of Chorus were able to attend the Solo Contest held in Mt. Airy. The group came back with high ratings; Cathy Wilhoit and Iris Hamilton brought back superior ratings. All-State, held May 4-5 at UNC-G, was also one of the events in which members of the Chorus participated.

Chorus presented a Christmas Concert and also an assembly. Spring Concert, Graduation and presentations at open house rounded out a full year.

Chorus sings in the key of life

ALLELUJA! Mixed Chorus serenades students during assembly.

ATTENTION. Mrs. Hawks prepares to conduct the chorus through another masterpiece.

WG recognizes lettermen

1st row — Mark Bryant, Ronnie Shirley, Jim McIntosh, Mark Francisco, David Cannell, Ken Trollinger, Chris Hammack, Darren Ficke. 2nd row — Danny Pierce, Mark Harris, Greg Plaster, Wes Needham, Brian Bissett, Greg Hardy, Bill Whitley, Jeff Bearden, Wiley Crutchfield. 3rd row — Mike Everett, Keith Flynt, Bobby Wilhoit, Chuck Doughton, Carl Ivarsson, Roy Whitfield, George Kirscher, Scott Logan, Bobby Gordon, Dallas Baldwin, David Pope. 4th row — Johnny Ellington, Brian Coble, Wayne Waterson, Steve Cooper, Richard Kincaid, Greg Cox, Chuck Bodine, Mark Peterson, Mark Melton, Bill Loftin, Tim Bondurant.

The WG Club is a group of male athletes who have lettered in various varsity sports.

Female athletes supply aid

The WGVA club is a group of girls who have lettered in various varsity sports.

The club did a variety of things for girls' sports. One was supplying the trophies for the All-Conference volleyball players during the Conference Volleyball Tournament. They provided gum and oranges for the girls' varsity basketball team during halftime at the basketball games. The club also provided first-aid supplies for the girls athletic program.

They had infrequent meetings called during the year. Occasionally they enjoyed a dinner meeting at Bill's Pizza Pub.

GET AWAY! Serteen members crowd around to discuss membership drive.

The Serteen Club is a service club for both males and females interested in the community. In its first year at Western, the club's main project was the sale of airplane tickets to raise money for the School of the Deaf.

The officers were: Kelly Stewart, president; Laura Chesson, Jeff Bearden, and Ginny Miller, vice-presidents; Lisa Ramos, treasurer; and Susan Freeman, secretary.

Kneeling: Allyson Bishop, Margy Fary. Clockwise: Laurie Dickerson, Tracy Smith, Robert Bowman, Bobby Gordon, Mark Griffin, Bonnie Steele, Missy Coleman, Donna Dickens. Middle: Mrs. Eve Keller.

TOO LONG AGAIN! Laurie Dickerson tries to make her caption fit the space.

You've got a friend

"Where's my layout?"
"Anybody have a pica ruler?"
"What do you mean, my deadline's tomorrow?"

Those are familiar sayings in Annual Class. The class consists of all grades. The members of the staff gave up their fifth period study hall to enter into the unknown danger of yearbook processing.

Such words as "pica," "3-R sheets," "cropping," and "layouts" became familiar jargon for these brave individuals.

The selling of the annual was big business for the newcomers with a budget of more than $8,000, but for the old ones selling ads and books was just another hassle, especially for business manager, Allyson Bishop.

After years of not having a newspaper, some Western students were interested enough to give up their study halls for the rigors of journalism.

The class was composed of all grades, friends and strangers. Yet each had come together with a common goal, and friends were quickly made in a relaxed atmosphere.

The excitement of the first edition came October 13 and was replaced with a sense of pride and accomplishment as students caught on to "beat" reporting and typing with asterisks.

Despite its success, there was still room for improvement. To remedy this, the class was chanted from a Pass/Fail to a graded situation at midyear. While some dropped the class second semester, those who remained took a deep breath and plunged in again.

As the year came to a close, students peeled rubber cement off their fingers with satisfaction. Volume I, numbers 1-8 of the STING were history.

THE STING starts a new tradition

TRYING TO BEAT THE BELL! These newspaper class members fold newspapers for sale.

A look behind the scenes

Few people realize the amount of hard work, dedication, and organization that go into the running of Western Guilford.

Behind every smoothly-run school is a principal like Mr. H.C. Walters. Along with giving announcements, during the course of the day he attends to his many duties including talking to students and parents, attending meetings at the county office, and serving as president of the Guilford County Principals' Association. Along with being principal, Mr. Walters has several other interests such as participating in service clubs, playing golf and faithfully supporting the Tarheels.

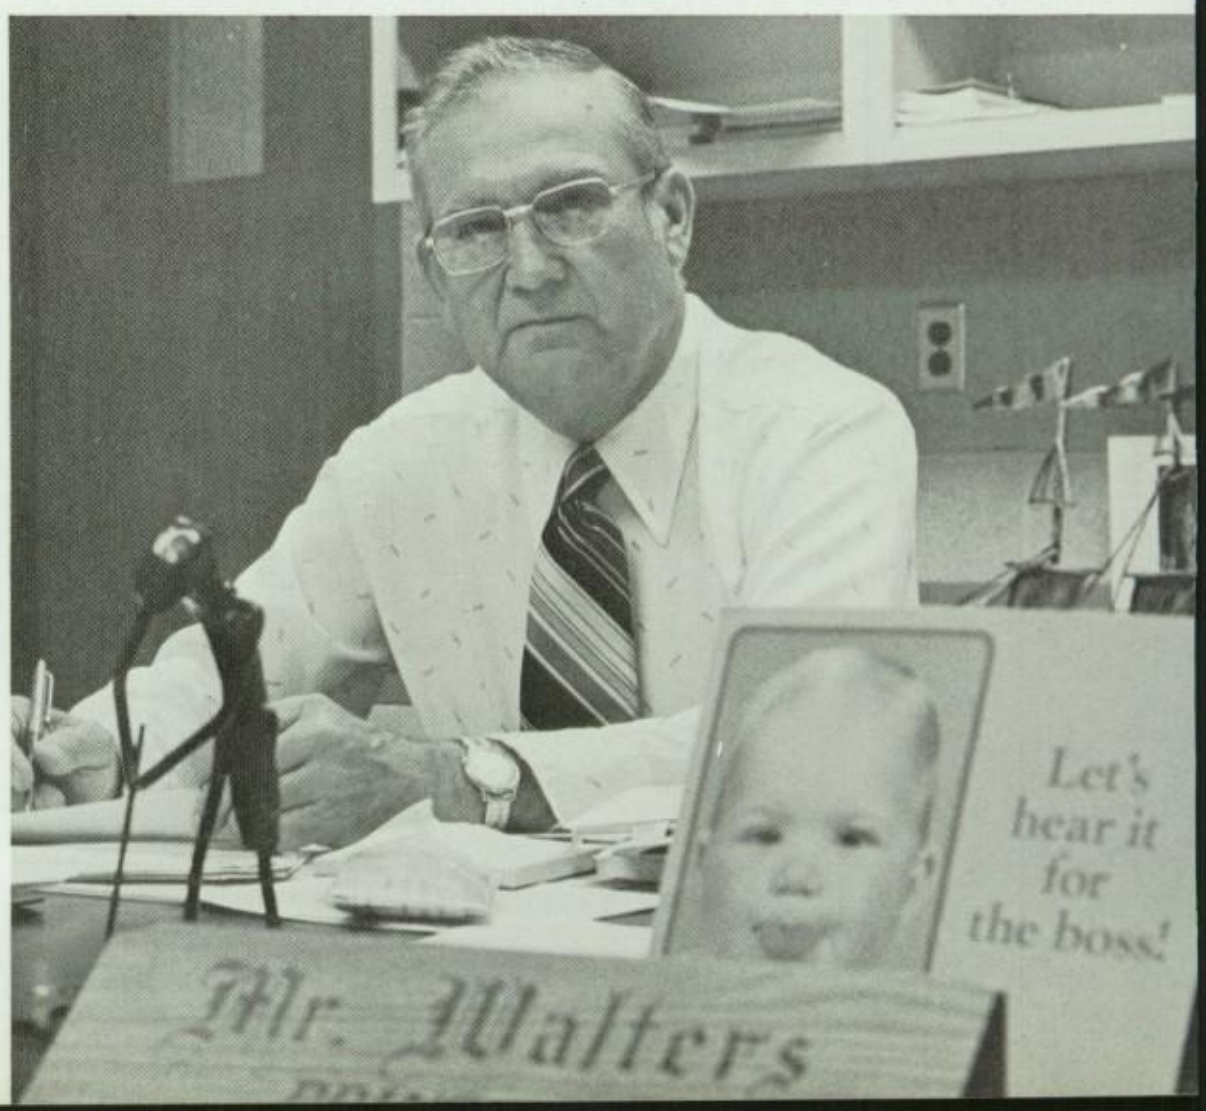
Helping with the running of Western is the assistant principal, Mr. Ed Carroll. His primary duties are organizing the bus drivers and disciplining the students. Even after 19 years with the Guilford County Schools, Mr. Carroll is still able to smile through an entire day (sometimes).

Two of the key people in Western's administration are the secretaries, Mrs. Jackie Hendren and Mrs. Linda Fritz.

Answering the telephone and typing reports are but a few of the many duties attended to by Mrs. Hendren.

The new voice heard over the PA system was Mrs. Fritz, the new treasurer. She replaced Mrs. Wilson and quickly learned the headaches of dealing with Western's money.

Despite the occasional rough spots, these four people made smoothness the order of each day.



SERVICE, SERVICE! Sara Bell, Toria McGee, and Beth Holmes wait patiently for service.

"WESTERN GUILFORD; MAY I HELP YOU?" Answering the phone is one of many of Mrs. Hendren's duties.

"MAY I HAVE YOUR ATTENTION, PLEASE." Mr. Walters gives announcements every day.

CAROLINA LOST! Mr. Walters shows a slight rivalry with the office staff over ACC standings.

"YOU AGAIN, HUH?" Mr. Carroll seems to take a cheerful approach to his work.

CLEAN UP TIME. Mr. Carroll does the dirty work after the donkey basketball game.

"PEEK-A-BOO" Mrs. Hendren uses the photocopier for easy duplicating.

"CHANGE FOR A QUARTER?" Mrs. Fritz is happy to perform her duties.

"Write a novel: Who, me?"

"At least you're on literature — we're still on grammar and who cares what a nominative absolute is, anyway?"

While some breezed through English and others struggled along, it was confusing for all at times to figure out who the teacher was. Mrs. Martin and Mr. Anderson were out for a semester, replaced by Mr. Sam Whicker and Miss Sally Bill, respectively, and Mrs. Lancaster was out for three weeks.

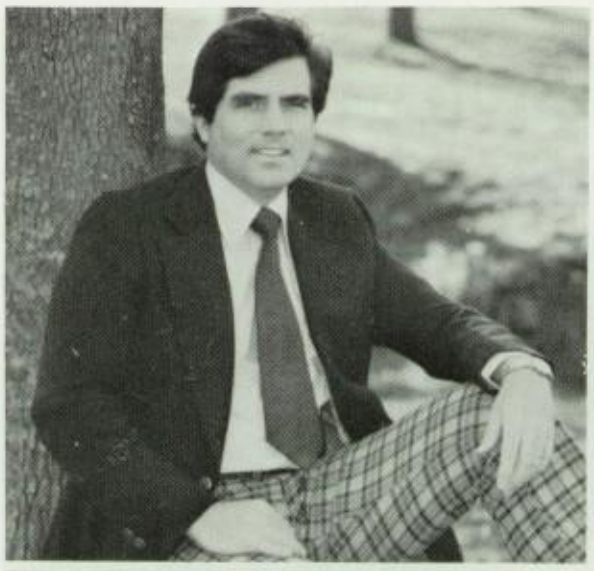
In grades 10-12, one class of students experienced Honors English for the first time, and Independent study and research projects were the order of the day.

English I consisted of a grammar and punctuation review; short stories, Dickens' GREAT EXPECTATIONS. Orwell's ANIMAL FARM and finally everyone's favorite, ROMEO AND JULIET.

Sophomores spent the day with nouns, pronouns, . . . and term papers. THE OLD MAN AND THE SEA, THE PEARL, AND JULIUS CAESAR managed to break the monotony, however. The students could be seen striking poses and demanding "Friends, Romans, Countrymen . . ."

Juniors and seniors could choose electives each year from such courses as Bible Literature, Contemporary American Writers, and Short Story and Novel.

Otherwise each junior took a semester of American Literature while seniors struggled through their final grammar course and term paper, counting the days till the time when they'd be free of their requirements.



Students can't escape English

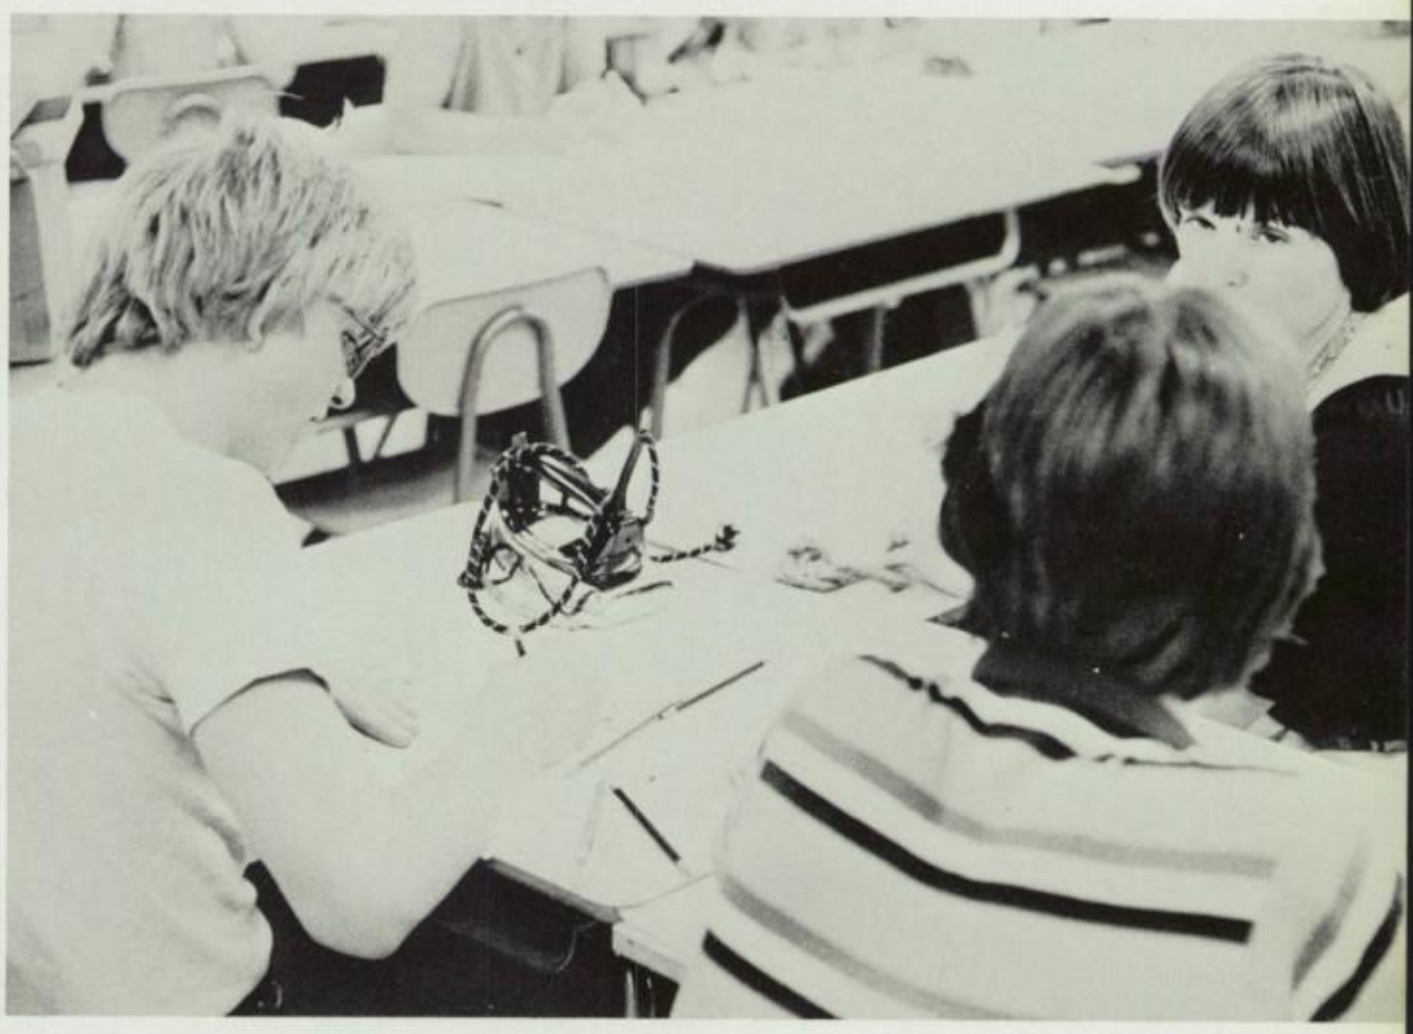
Students display varied talents



WHAT'S THE QUESTION? Mrs. Clodfelter explains to Doug Rudisill and Craig Pearman the values of drawing a iron.

Students who desired to expand their creative talents found an ample opportunity in one of several areas.

Art exhibits in the commons area were an eye-pleaser all year. Behind the scenes, the art room was sometimes an obstacle course of drying batiks or hanging macrame as each student found new ways to express himself.

Drama classes fifth and sixth period learned their draft through history, practice, rehearsal, and performance. From "shouting" voice exercises to Shakespeare, drama provided a chance to make-believe once again.

Singing students met with Mrs. Hawks either first or second period to concentrate on enumciating and harmonizing at the same time. Their efforts proved worthwhile when they received unanimous ranking of superior at the district choral contest. The student body was made aware of their success through various assemblies and open house.

Some people can't chew gum and walk in a straight line; but members of the marching band can go one better! After the freezing fingers of the football season, the concert band continued to practice every day fifth period and pep band members gave their time to boost morale at basketball games. Practice, parades, and puckered lips summarized the band's year.

ONE MORE TIME! Mrs. Lail explains it again.

Mathematics has trials and tribulations

JEANNIE P. HODGES, Math, B.S., Atlantic Christian College.
CAROLYN W. HOPPER, Math, B.S., Appalachian State University, M. Ed., UNC-G.
BRENDA LAIL, Math, (Head), B.S., M.Ed. UNC-G.
PAMELA S. PRICE, Math, B.A., M.A., UNC-G (Not Pictured).
FRANCES WARREN, Math, B.S., Western Carolina University, M.A.T., Emory University.

Once again, students managed to fight their way through the trials and tribulations of math. With two units needed for graduation no one was spared the horrendous duty of solving proofs or balancing credits with debits.

Freshmen were faced with the prospect of choosing between algebra or pre-algebra and general math. If algebra was chosen, with a lot of luck and a good teacher students eventually worked their way through Geometry, Algebra II, and finally, if they owned a good calculator, Advanced Math.

Other students took a more practical view, choosing to start with general math and continuing with either Business Math or Consumer Math. In Business and Consumer Math, students acquainted themselves with the art of balancing checkbooks, calculating interest rates, and many other readily applicable skills.

Whether metric or exponential, math was either a fascinating field of study or a lot of homework in the trashcan.

Science offers something for everyone

Most freshman began their high school science career in Physical Science, where they learned such things as molecular properties and how to balance equations.

After learning the intricate procedure of lighting a bunson burner, they went on to continue their explosive science careers in the next years of Biology, Chemistry, Advanced Biology and Physics.

The sophomore year was spent dissecting frogs and crayfish to learn the basic internal organs and functions of these animals. But most Biology students also learned the structure of the hand as note taking cramped their style.

The juniors mostly took either Chemistry or Advanced Biology. If they took Chemistry, they learned reaction mechanisms and flow charts and other intellectual advancements which are probably still known only to Miss Hurd!

If they chose Advanced Biology instead, Mr. Johnson knows they fully understood the internal organs, the functions and the reproductive system of a shark.

Some seniors concluded their "science career" with Physics where they took field trips and continued lab work, combined with lectures to make the students understand the "relativity" of science and life.

All these courses had one thing in commom — they all required hard work, dedication, studious people, and those unloved SCIENCE PROJECTS.

BOY IS THAT INTERESTING! Mark Ferguson and Fran Ludwick take time to view the science projects that cluttered the library for a week.

Vocational classes at Western, the classes which either prepare a student for work or give him a chance to work, included everything from Shop to Home Economics.

All students in these classes were actually being prepared to function on their own. Many of them did not plan to go to a four-year college, yet through these courses would (hopefully) be able to support themselves. However, many students in these classes did plan to attend college. These courses helped them in their chosen field of study of in adjusting to college life.

D.E., I.C.T., and Health Occupations gave students a chance to work during part of the school day and receive course credit. I.C.T. students worked with their hands; D.E. students worked with or sold something already made; and Health Occupations students worked at the hospital for two hours in the morning after completing the introductory course to the health field.

The Home Economics department, Mrs. Martha Siler, offered students a variety of courses designed to improve the quality of life. Introductory Home Ec provided an overview, after which a student might choose from such courses as Interior Decorating, Advanced Foods and Nutrition, and Interpersonal Relations. Whatever the course, interesting sights (Does she have on a wedding gown?) and especially interesting smells made the Home Ec room a favorite.

Shop, Drafting, and Electronics gave students a chance to expand in a field in which they were interested. They worked with their hands and at the end of the year had a large variety of projects from bookshelves to model houses to perfectly working appliances to show for all their work.

The office oriented classes, such as typing, office occupations, consumer math, and accounting, prepared a student for work either before or after college. Office skills came in handy — expecially around term paper time: type, type, type.

Mrs. Suggs' classes offered students a special learning opportunity on a more individual basis. Practice in basic skills and the application of those skills in real life situations made students feel more capable and comfortable.

In October of this year, the new vocational building was opened. It provided larger rooms and new equipment and a whole new outlook as our campus and opportunities expanded.

Spanish/French Words take on new meaning

"Bonjour! Parlez vous Francais?" "No, mi amigo. Hablo Español."

Whether the choice was French with Miss Bondurant or Spanish with Mr. Girardi, learning a foreign language was an eye opening experience. Students learned the true joy of conjugating a verb and whizzed through oral exams without stuttering . . . well, hardly.

Classes mixed the necessary drill with playing word games; learning Christmas carols to sing in assembly; enjoying good, if sometimes stilted, conversation; and learning about the cultural differences and similarities of the nations whose languages were studied.

DIGA ME. Mr. Girardi talks with students about Spanish customs.

History — a look at the past

Who cares whether Napoleon won or lost at Waterloo? Western students who are required to take two years of history in order to graduate do.

The first year, Recent U.S. History, is taken in ninth grade. This course thoroughly covers the history of our country from the Declaration of Independence to history that is being made today and is spiced by Mr. Robinson's own brand of humor.

The other year can be made up of a variety of semester courses from American Problems and U.S. Government to Eastern Hemisphere Geography or Ancient World History.

Whether drawing maps, memorizing dates, or creating historical newspapers, students found history to be a mind-opening experience.

Physical Education classes offer variety

ON THE OTHER HAND. Mr. Jones, a student teacher, lectures on the finer points of government finance.

The physical education department had a very energetic year highlighted with the acquisition of new gymnastic equipment which included high bar, horse, balance beam, and uneven parallel bars.

In addition to the usual sports, students participated in such varied activities as wrestling, tumbling, and wiffle ball. With the new tennis courts, students enjoyed the addition of tennis to the class.

Health instruction was also a part of the Physical Education classes as students learned how to better care for their bodies.

Counselors befriend students

"I can't stand English!"
"Can my schedule be changed?"
"Where should I go to college?"
"Why do I need Geometry? I'm going to be a sports writer."

These are but a few of the questions that our guidance counselors were faced with every day. But Western Guilford had Mr. Jim Battle and Mrs. Nancy Simon to guide it down the right path.

The counselors were involved in a variety of activities this year, such as giving PSAT, competency, and achievement tests.

All of this was added to their usual work load of typing, filing, and helping students with schedules.

Several students volunteered their study halls to work in the guidance office, which helped to ease the load of the counselors.

Library — a wealth of information

Have you ever wondered what the real story was behind the curse of King Tut's tomb? Or how to dissect a frog? Well, a wealth of information awaited you in the Western Guilford library.

To assist you in your endeavors were Mrs. Smith, librarian, and Mrs. Jones, assistant.

Some students volunteered their study halls to help by shelving books, checking out books, and other jobs in the library.

Our library was a great asset to students preparing term papers, doing research or just reading for pleasure.

OFFICE WORKERS. First row: Paige Stewart, Gail Gorham, Sue Owens. Second row: Laura Chesson, Margaret Prevette, Angie Hendren.

Every morning and afternoon teachers were greeted by the smiling face of a student requesting attendance for the day. These were the students who had volunteered their study halls to help in the attendance office by collecting the attendance and doing other record-keeping chores.

SAE was a group of students called teachers' helpers. These students helped the teachers by doing such things as grading papers, typing letters, checking tests, doing bulletin boards, and running errands. Officers were: Brenda Johnson, President; Mary Sandridge, Secretary; and Deborah Patat, Treasurer.

"Good Morning, Western Guilford. May I help you?"

This was a familiar sound to students who used their study hall time to assist in the office. They helped to run the school by answering the phone, running errands, writing admit and excused slips, and generally helping to keep things organized.

SAE MEMBERS. 1st row: Brenda Johnson, Deborah Patat, Mary Sandridge, Debbie Brown, Kay Freeman, Karen Gaither, Janice Sillmon.

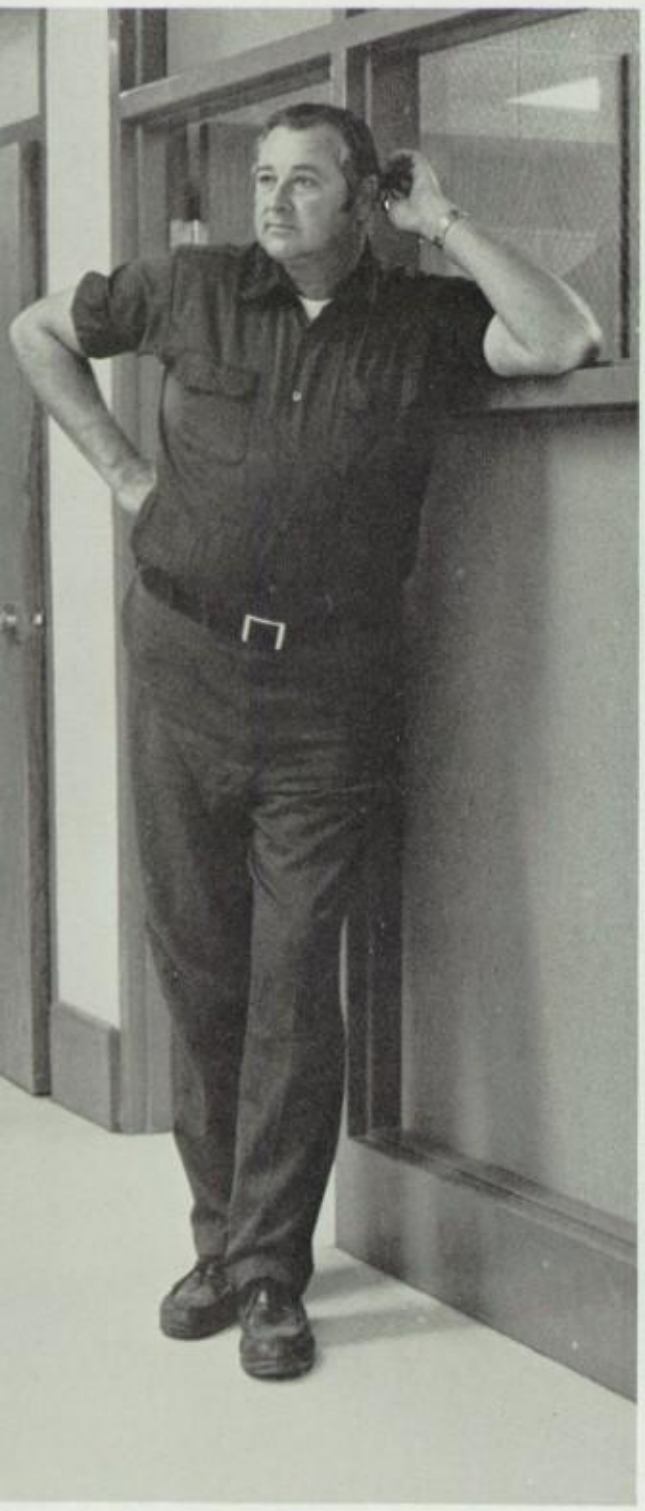
CAFETERIA WORKERS. 1st row: Edith Michaux, Ruby Scott, Melanie Tillery, Gloria Milanese. 2nd row: Ethel Kay, Myrtle Saunders, Peggy Jessup, Nan Connor.

CAFETERIA SUPERVISOR. Melanie Tillery.



MAINTENANCE SUPERVISOR. Carl Chambers

Serving our needs

This year, as in years past, Western Guilford students have been able to get hot meals and live in clean surroundings thanks to the janitor, maids, and cafeteria staff.

Mr. Carl Chambers, Mrs. Faye Curtis, and Mrs. Shirley Gilmore, worked all year long cleaning bathrooms, offices, and classrooms after school was dismissed so that students would be able to come to a clean building everyday.

The cafeteria staff served hot nutritious meals everyday. A great deal of planning was put behind each menu so that students would be able to get one good meal a day.

The combined efforts of all of these people helped to make Western Guilford a more efficiently run establishment.

SMILING PROUDLY. President Kevin Hanner, secretary Fran Ludwick, vice-president Jay Lee, and treasurer Jennifer Smith were elected class officers.

It was a very new and exciting experience to come to Western, especially since it was twice the size of "Little Guilford." There were many new things to learn such as a new (?) lunch menu, looking out for seniors with class rings, and just passing the required subjects.

After the first month of school, the newly settled freshmen advanced (very happy about getting out of class) to the stadium in order to elect class officers. Despite a cherry bomb going off, the nominations were made and class officers elected.

The Freshman class entered into the Homecoming tradition by choosing attendants. Their representatives were Missy Mann, Cathy Threadgill, and Sandy Vuncannon.

At first the Freshman float theme was "Fry the Falcons," but they changed to the other extreme, "Freeze the Falcons." The work started at Leslie Hill's, then moved to Tracy Smith's, and was finally completed at Cathy Coleman's. Unfortunately, the float didn't place in the evening's competition.

Day after day of having wet hair, being embarrassed by coed classes, running "suicides," and having ten minutes to shower and dress sometimes tended to hide the fact from aching freshmen that P.E. builds healthy bodies!

All students also studied health and first aid. This included mostly taking notes and watching movies (and trying not to get sick).

Even though all P.E. courses are now graded Pass/Fail (the girls for the first time this year), freshmen found that passing was not to be taken for granted as they struggled to prove themselves fit to be sophomores.

As the sophomores returned this year (the majority of them, that is), they were much wiser, not nearly as confused, and had lost their green freshmen traits.

The sophomores made the perfect choice by electing the following officers: Keith Flynt, president; Chris Wilhoit, vice-president; Sue Owens, secretary; and Nancy Boerema, treasurer.

With the help of these officers and other class members, the sophomores won first place in the float competition! The sophomores spent many hours working on their float and seemed to be pleased with their product homecoming night.

SMILE. Sophomore attendants Toria McGee, Marnita Raliegh, and Nancy Boerema tour the track.

The sophomores roused class spirit early in the year. Class members gathered at Cheryl Pearman's house to work on a float that would truly represent their class in the float competition. Homecoming night, all the last minute preparations and prayers paid off. The sophomore float was awarded first place in the competition.

Along with an outstanding float, the sophomores chose three lovely girls to represent their class on the homecoming court. They were Cheryl Pearman escorted by Keith Flynt; Toria McGee escorted by Mark Welker; and Marnita Raleigh escorted by Charles Wallington.

Sophomores "enjoy" Biology and Drivers' Ed.

Mr. Smith, Mr. Hollifield, and Mr. Johnson taught all sophomores Biology. It seemed that never a day went by without one hearing Mr. Smith repeat his familiar saying, "and altso." Things finally looked up and some sophomores actually enjoyed all of the photosynthesis, euglenas, and dissecting.

There was a brave soul around Western Guilford — Mr. Flinchum, head of the drivers' ed. classes. Students were permitted to miss nine weeks of study hall to get a chance to learn the rules of the road. After the nine weeks of study hall were over, each student who had taken the course patiently awaited Mr. Flinchum's o.k. to drive one of the cars. They also hoped the other people driving were not crazy.

HOMEROOM BLAHS! Carol Price, Sandra Payne, and Barbara O'Rourke use homeroom time to do homework on Thursdays.

With the passage of time, Western became an integral part of the sophomores' lives. With security, they also acquired the Hornet Spirit, which could be heard above all the other classes.

Good grades suddenly became more important than just getting by, and they began to save most of their fun for the weekends.

During this year, some of them acquired the "Middle-of-the-Road Blahs," which consisted of boredom and studying.

Two more years to go, an eternity in thought, but soon comes the rewarding event . . . the coveted cap and gown!

"Any nominations for Junior Class Officers?"

The Junior Class faced a demanding year. Not only were they confronted with the task of passing a wide variety of subjects, but the Junior-Senior Prom was traditionally placed on their shoulders (Would you like to buy a magazine?).

To lead them, the class chose Bill Whitley as president, Gail Gorham as vice- president, Beth Graybeal as secretary, and Susan Pleasants as treasurer.

Also confronting the class was the ordering of their class rings. After choosing the style they wanted in September, the Juniors anxiously ordered their rings, and waited . . .

For their efforts, the Juniors were awarded second place (even though the tow vehicle ran out of gas half way around the track!).

This year was the first year that juniors enjoyed the freedom of selecting classes from a wide variety of elective courses.

Among the selections of English courses were Major American Writers, Contemporary American Lit., Selections in Bible Literature, and Honors English. From studying verbals to writing novels, juniors had definite feelings about their English classes one way or another.

In the science department, juniors preferred Chemistry to Advanced Biology. Although slightly lost in the world of super-phosphoric, juniors learned a little stoichiometry with the help of Miss Hurd.

This year was filled with new problems, surprises, and privileges for the Class of '78, who had decided that their senior class was going to be the best ever to graduate from Western.

The seniors started the year off right by electing Keith Leinbach, Beth Vestal, Emily Smith, and Sammy Jeffers as their officers. These officers fulfilled some of their responsibilities to the class by planning a dance, organizing float meetings (which often turned out to be alot more fun and games than work), and getting approval for senior privileges early in the year.

As the year began, away went the traditional peer groups which had lasted for eleven years and a much more serene attitude came over the senior class. Whether it was a maturing summer or just the realization of the fact that this would be their last year of school, the entire class was impressed with the individual acceptance and respect shown by classmates. And futures were built on this acceptance.

Seniors regarded Homecoming with a tinge of sadness, realizing that from now on they would be the returning graduates. So they set out to make it the best ever.

Their nights were spent at Mark Bryant's house building their float, "Finish the Falcons." Their days were spent getting into the mood for this last Homecoming game by participating in Spirit Week activities.

For four senior girls it was especially hectic. These girls were Donna Dickens, Becky Meredith, Sherry Pleasants, and Laurie Siler.

Finally the big night came ... and went, leaving many special memories.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS. Kenny Stanley and Chuck Bodine review colleges.

Whether the decision was to further his education or to get a full-time job, each senior was faced with big decisions this year.

Despite the many responsibilities looming ahead, most seniors still made plans for a final fling at the beach after graduation.

One item seniors seem to remember about their senior year is the expense involved.

Money, money, money; pay for this; pay for that. At first it was a parking sticker (or else chance a ticket), then small donations for the Homecoming float, and then the yearbook plus extra money for color pictures. Senior pictures added the final touch most hoped, but while recovering from an empty pocket, announcements had to be ordered as well.

Was it worth it?

Who says seniors are slack?

STUDYING HARD? Most seniors like Kirby Shelley occasionally had to study.

Many seniors chose to take lighter loads or "cript courses." (Remember the surprised looks after the first test!)

Or for those ambitious one, there were Mrs. Lail's Advanced Math (a real killer), or Mrs. Martin's and Lancaster's Advanced Grammar and Composition (the final survival tests).

The senior class summed up their high school years taking courses that would help out in their future (or just to get out of school).

Cone makes fabrics people live in.®

In 21 modern plants, Cone creates a whole line of quality fabrics for casualwear, sportswear, sleepwear, uniforms and career apparel. Fabrics for home-decorating and home-sewing —even polyurethane foam—are now a part of the Cone family of products.

The almost 14,000 employees of Cone are proud of their part in helping Cone grow. And proud of creating the basic fabrics that are the backbone of American casual fashion. Cone®

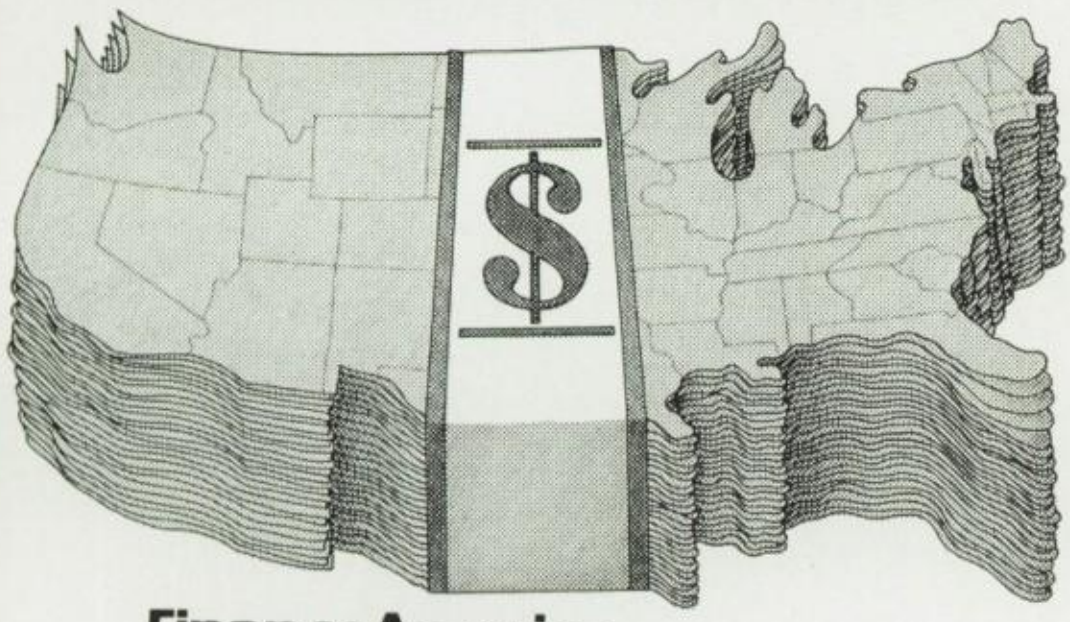
FinanceAmerica wants to finance America!



FinanceAmerica
A BANKAMERICA FINANCIAL SERVICE COMPANY

Loans up to $25,000

You may know FinanceAmerica as the company that puts a jingle in your pocket. But our expertise in the financing business doesn't stop there!

Take our Commercial Division. We offer accounts receivables, inventory and equipment financing to provide the additional working capital that growth-oriented companies need. Then there's our Private Brands Division. We help manufacturers and distributors expand their sales and distribution through a complete dealer financing program. And of course, our Consumer Credit Division that increases sales for retailers by providing a convenient way for consumers to finance the big purchases they need. Not to mention the personal loans they make for any good reason.

FinanceAmerica has been in the field of finance for over 40 years. So whatever your financial needs, business or personal, big or small, FinanceAmerica can help. After all, we're called FinanceAmerica because we want to finance America!

When you're down and troubled
And you need some love and care
And nothing, nothing is going right
Close your eyes and think of me
And soon I will be there
To brighten up even your darkest night.

You just call out my name
And you know wherever I am
I'll come running,
To see you again
Winter, spring, summer or fall
All you have to do is call
And I'll be there, Yes I will
You've got a friend.

If the sky above you
Grows dark and full of clouds
And that old north wind begins to blow
Keep your head together
And call my name out loud
Soon you'll hear my knockin' at your door.

You just call out my name
And you know wherever I am
I'll come running,
To see you again
Winter, spring, summer or fall
All you have to do is call
And I'll be there, Yes I will —

Now ain't it good to know
That you've got a friend
When people can be so cold
They'll hurt you, yes, and desert you
And take your soul if you let them
Oh, but don't you let them . . .

You just call out my name
And you know wherever I am
I'll come running,
To see you again
Winter, spring, summer or fall
All you have to do is call
And I'll be there, Yes I will
You've got a friend.

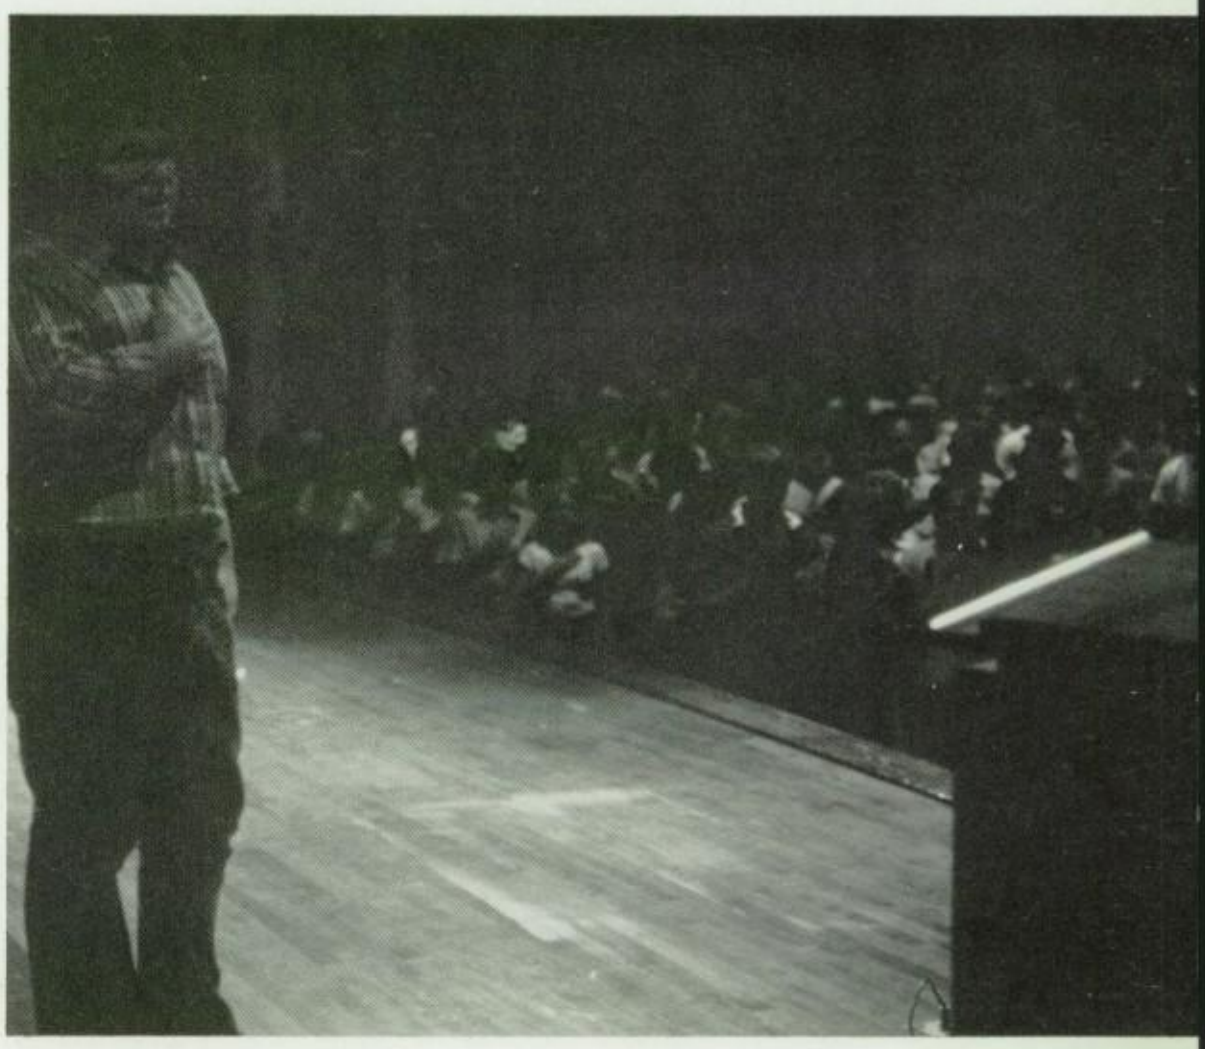
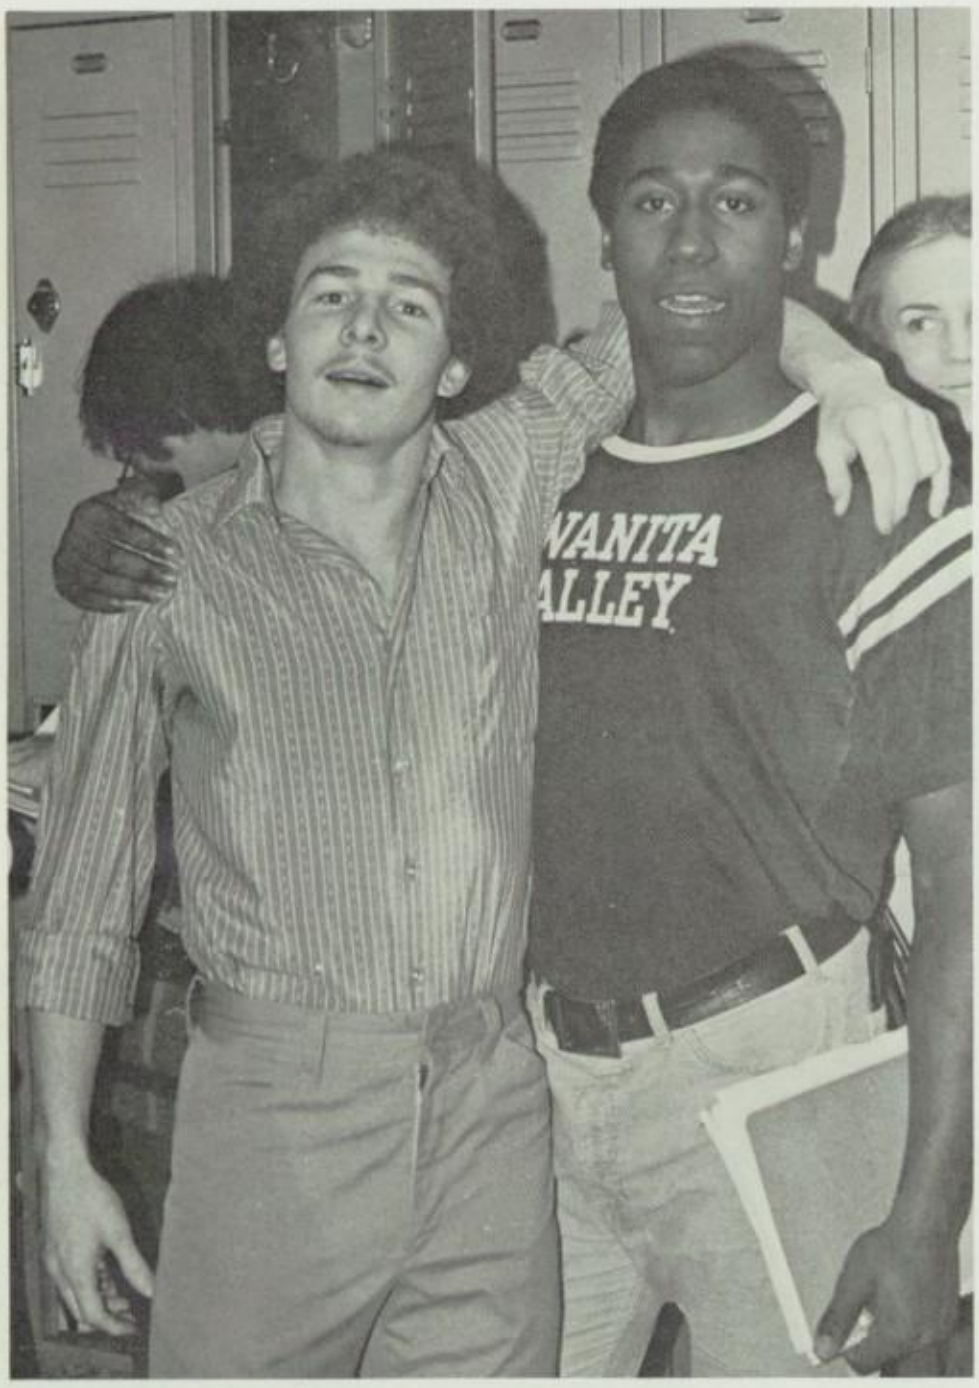
"I PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE ..." David Cannell leads the entire school in the pledge of allegiance before every assembly.





A friend is . . .

. . . someone you can trust.

. . . someone who cares about you.

. . . someone who makes you smile when you feel like crying.

. . . someone to talk with and to share secrets with.

. . . someone who doesn't make judgements about you.

. . . someone who sticks up for you.

. . . someone who tells you the truth, no matter what it is.

. . . someone who knows all about you; and still likes you in spite of it.

. . . someone who loves you.

A friend is a really special person.

This year is over now, thank God. I've heard all the excuses, speeches, and arguments so many times; I've memorized them. I'm bored. I'm fed up with thinking about my deadlines along with those of my staff.

The annual staff turned out to be a bit small this year, causing us to go outside the staff for some help. I'd like to thank Carol Hinshaw, Chris Wade, Vicky Hartsell, Karen Slaughter, and Alisa Stone for being there when we called; the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS for their pictures; the drafting class for making our paper dolls; my parents, Denzel Denzel and Dick Dickerson, for allowing us to spend numerous Saturdays at their house to complete deadlines; Mr. Harry Thomas for answering all our questions and helping us to understand and complete our deadlines; Mr. Ben Keller for having patience with us for keeping his wife away on weekends; and Mrs. Eve Keller for being so helpful and understanding, and for sticking with us all year through our bickering.

And now I'd like to thank my staff; they've been great. Although we fought and argued we did grow close to each other and I don't think I will ever forget this year as editor-in-chief of the 1978 Amici; or will ever want to.
